How the mighty have fallen: finis to Watergate

WASHINGTON (UPI) Once they had stood before the country as the most powerful advisers to the most powerful man in the world.

Now they stood before the bar of justice as the crusading, white-haired judge sentenced them to jail for misusing that vast power.

It was perhaps the final denouement of a drama that began almost innocently early on the morning of June 17, 1972, when five men wearing white gloves were caught with burglary tools in the Watergate headquarters of the Democrats.

They stood quietly, solemnly, before Judge John J. Sirica, who hadn't been satisfied with the trial of the original burglars and who dug perhaps deeper than any judge in memory to discover that the misdeeds stretched from Watergate to the White House.

John N. Mitchell, the bulldog-jowled former attorney general who had masterminded Richard Nixon's 1968 election but who apparently grossly misjudged the challenge the Democrats would be able to muster in 1972.

H.R. "Bob" Haldeman, Richard Nixon's self-proclaimed "S.O.B." who built such a protective fortress around the Oval Office that even Nixon Cabinet members called it "The Berlin Wall."

John D. Ehrlichman, square-jawed, defiant, sharp-tongued domestic adviser under Nixon, now silent as he stared at Sirica.

Robert C. Mardian, former deputy attorney general under Mitchell, whose function at the re-election committee had been to try to explain away Watergate and whose wife had spewed a Bronx cheer at Sirica the day her husband was convicted.

Sirica started the proceeding promptly at 9:30 a.m., telling each defendant and his lawyer they had an opportunity to make a statement prior to sentencing.

Mitchell was first. Neither he nor his lawyer, William Hundley wished to speak.

Nine minutes after the proceeding had begun, Haldeman's lawyer John Wilson began pleading for his client. For 17 minutes he spoke to his old friend and adversary, contending that Haldeman should not be confined behind bars while his old boss Nixon sat in the Southern California sun.

Wilson concluded with a smile and said, "This may be my swan song." To Sirica, he said, "but for the grace of God I might be sitting where you are today."

At 9:47 a.m. Ehrlichman's new lawyer, Ira Lowe, began his appeal for "a strict sentence," but no incarceration. His client, he said, wanted to be rehabilitated by working his law trade to help the Pueblo Indians in New Mexico.

His plea —ultimately ignored —took 25 minutes. At its end Ehrlichman said: "I have nothing to add."

Mardian's lawyer, David Ginsberg, stepped up in front of Sirica and said, "We will have no statement."

Sirica began reading at 10:14 a.m.

"I have given careful and serious thought to what the proper sentence should be," he said. "I usually consider the purpose to be served by a particular sentence."

He had considered, he said, protection of society, punishment, rehabilitation and the "deterrent effect on others."

Then he pronounced the sentences —2-½ years to eight years each for Mitchell, Haldeman, Ehrlichman. Ten months to three years for Mardian.

Mitchell, pale and tired, walked away talking with his lawyer and showed no emotion. Haldeman took it without expression. Erhlichman was grim. Mardian listened with hands clasped behind his back. All have said they would appeal.

Top Nixon aides get up to 8 years

Living costs up, but smallest monthly hike since last April

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The cost of living edged up 0.6 per cent in January, its smallest increase since last April, the Labor Department reported today.

Price drops on clothing, new cars, beef and home mortgage interest rates helped the inflationary slowdown.

The government's Consumer Price Index hit 156.1 last month, meaning goods that cost $100 in 1967 now cost $156.10.

Seasonally adjusted, the 0.6 was the smallest monthly rise since April. The index has been advancing at a slower rate each month since September and, coupled with two consecutive monthly declines in wholesale prices, the figures indicate steady progress against inflation.

There were some sharp price hikes, however, at the retail level last month. The cost of medical care, utilities and new houses plus fresh fruit, vegetable and bakery prices all increased for the month.

Consumer prices now have risen 11.7 per cent in the past 12 months.

With seasonal factors discounted, retail prices rose 0.5 per cent in January. Food prices went up 0.7 per cent and there was no increase in nonfood prices.

Pitchess: I'll resign, if Ward does the same

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sheriff Peter Pitchess Thursday said he would resign if Supervisor Baxter Ward would also resign, with the condition that both would agree never to re-enter public service.

It was the latest development in a long running and increasingly bitter feud between the two men.

At a news conference, Pitchess said Ward was "a very destructive force" in Los Angeles County.

"I will be willing to leave to rid Los Angeles County of him," Pitchess said. "My attorney stands ready to meet with his attorney or any of his representatives," the sheriff said, promising to give up his office within 24 hours of Ward's resignation.

Ward was in Sacramento Thursday, meeting with state officials and was not available for comment.

The sheriff's offer came a day after Ward, at his own news conference, offered to resign if Pitchess could prove charges of possible irregularities by Ward in the sale of land in Kern County.

Ward said if Pitchess could not prove the charges, then the sheriff should resign.

The two have been battling since Ward took office in 1972. The supervisor has charged the sheriff with using sheriff's personnel and county property for Pitchess's personal use.

Ward's most recent charge said Pitchess had used the county helicopter to survey land he was buying in the Malibu area as a personal investment.

Pitchess, at his news conference, called Ward "an outright liar" and said he had bought the land 45 days before the time he is accused of surveying it.

The sheriff admitted, however, that he had flown over the land in a sheriff's helicopter on Nov. 15, 1971, with Faruk Aykal, a title searcher for Transamerica Title Insurance Co., which had been involved in the transaction.

He emphasized, however, that the flight was to check the property for access roads for a sheriff's mounted posse training ride and to determine if the helicopter could be used to watch for illegal nude sunbathers on the beaches.

Valley firm wins $58 million contract for Arizona project

A Walnut firm has received a $58 million contract to bore a tunnel seven miles through the Buckskin Mountains near Parker, Ariz.

This will be the first leg in a long range program of supplying Colorado River water to central Arizona.

The J.F. Shea Co., Inc., of 655 Brea Canyon Road, was awarded the contract Thursday by the U.S. Interior Department's bureau of reclamation. Five companies bid for the job.

The firm is expected to start work within the next two weeks. The project, however, will take about five years to complete.

The tunnel will measure 22 feet inside and will have a capacity of carrying 3,000 cubic feet of water per second.

Water will be pumped from the Colorado River up 820 feet to the Buckskin tunnel and then carried through the mountain. Future projects will be to construct aqueducts and tunnels to continue the flow to the central counties of Maricopa, Pinal and Pima.

"We expect it to take 10 years before water will reach these areas," said Mike Thomas, the bureau's office engineer in Phoenix, Ariz.

"The Central Arizona project is a method of diverting Arizona's entitlement of the Colorado River water to the state's central area."

When the Colorado River water reaches the designated areas, it will be used for domestic consumption, industries and irrigation, he added.

These counties now draw their water supplies from both underground and surface sources.

The bureau will open bids April 8 for a $4.6 million project in another step to channel the water into Arizona, he added.

The contract awarding to the Shea Co. was announced by Rep. Jim Lloyd, D-35th Dist.

PRISON FOR ALL

Bill lowering drinking age killed by Assembly

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly has killed legislation to lower California's legal drinking age to 18 but approved measures to restrict prosecution in obscene movie cases and legalize bingo games operated by charitable groups.

A proposed constitutional amendment reducing the drinking age from 21 to 18 was rejected Thursday on a 49-24 vote on the second and final try for assembly passage. The measure (ACA15) by Assemblyman Robert C. Cline, R-Northridge, needed 54 votes.

A measure (AB407) which would exempt theater employes from prosecution under laws prohibiting obscene movies was sent to the senate on a 51-17 vote while a proposed constitutional amendment (ACA3) on bingo went to the Senate on a 55-18 vote, one more vote than the 54 needed.

Just before the vote on the obscene movie measure, Assemblyman John Vasconcellos, D-San Jose, warned the legislators about forcing 'arbitrary values' on the public. He noted the assembly also was considering the drinking and bingo measures.

Vasconcellos said it was "really appalling" that lawmakers in 'their arrogant and fascist way" were legislating morality.

"Don't you have any faith in the public?" he asked his colleagues.

During debate on the drinking legislation, Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, argued young people between the ages of 18 and 21 should not be denied the right to drink since they already have all the other responsibilities and rights of adulthood, including voting and military service.

But Assemblyman Bob McLennan, R-Downey, the legislature's only physician, said alcohol consumption was "the third largest killer" in the United States and lowering the drinking age would only compound the problems of drinking and driving.

Present law exempts motion picture projectionists from prosecution for exhibiting obscene movies if they do not have a financial interest in the theater.

The measure passed by the Assembly would exempt from prosecution other employes, such as ticket sellers, ushers and concession operators, if they do not have a financial interest in the theater. Author of the bill is Assemblyman Howard L. Berman, D-Beverly Hills.

Mitchell, Ehrlichman, Haldeman get stiffest penalties in scandal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John N Mitchell, H.R. Haldeman and John Ehrlichman, once Richard M. Nixon's most trusted aides, were sentenced today to up to eight years in prison for conspiring to cover up America's worst political scandal.

Opening the way for an appeals process than may take as long as two years, U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica also sentenced Robert C. Mardian to up to three years in prison for his part in the Watergate conspiracy.

The sentences, stiffer than those received by any other Watergate defendants since the original burglars, were described by one of the attorneys as "far more than Richard Nixon will ever suffer."

Nixon, forced to resign as President of the United States by the same evidence which led to the conviction of his top aides, was vacationing in Palm Springs, Calif., with the knowledge that he will never be proscuted under a pardon he received from President Ford. There was no immediate comment from the former president.

None of the four conspirators —Mitchell, who had been Nixon's attorney general and campaign manager; Haldeman and Ehrlichman, who were chief White House aides, and Mardian, who was Mitchell's chief deputy —showed any emotion as the sentences were pronounced.

Mitchell's dry humor nonetheless surfaced as he left the courthouse. "It could have been a hell of a lot worse," he said. "They could have sentenced me to spend the rest of my life with Martha Mitchell" —his estranged wife who once basked in the limelight of Watergate publicity.

The other conspirators solemnly refused to comment, but Mardian's lawyer said he thought the sentences were "too heavy." Ehrlichman, normally glib, confessed "I just don't have anything to say."

Mitchell, Haldeman and Ehrlichman were sentenced to a minimum of 2-½ years to a maximum of eight years on charges of obstruction of justice, conspiracy and lying. Mardian, convicted only of conspiracy, was given a 10-month to three year sentence. They were released without bond pending appeal.

Ehrlichman also faces a sentence of 20 months to five years in connection with the break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

Through their attorneys, Ehrlichman offered to waive his right of appeal in exchange for an "alternative sentence" of doing legal research for a group of Pueblo Indians in New Mexico and Haldeman pleaded for a sentence no worse than Nixon's.

Sirica replied on that he had given "careful and serious thought to what the proper sentence should be" and considered "the deterrent effect on others."

"Whatever Bob Haldeman did, so did Richard Nixon," Haldeman's attorney, John J. Wilson said. "But Nixon is free and Haldeman has faced the agony of a trial.

Mardian's wife Dorothy and Haldeman's college-age daughter Jan were the only family members in the courtroom. Neither displayed any reaction to the sentencing.

Mitchell, Haldeman and Ehrlichman each were given concurrent 20-month to five year sentences for obstruction of justice and conspiracy. In addition, they were given consecutive sentences of 10-months to three years on charges of either lying to Watergate investigators, or perjury.

"It is the intention of the court that each shall serve from 30 months to eight years in prison," Sirica said.

Warning on mislabeled cough syrup

Valley residents who may have bottles of dangerous potassium chloride, mislabeled as "children's cough syrup," have been warned to remove them from medicine cabinets.

"Continued use of this misbranded product in children will cause severe damage to their health, including ulcers," according to the State Health Department and Progress Laboratories, Inc., of Los Angeles, manufacturers of the cough syrup.

Local residents should look for bottles labeled either with the brand name, "Phlemazin Pediatric" or the generic name, "Promethazine pediatric expectorant."

A survey of valley pharmacists revealed that none of them had stocked the product recently. If they had, anyway, the health department recently notified them to take it off the shelves.

Pharmacists had no way of knowing, they said, if local residents still had the syrup on their shelves.

"More than likely, people could have it," said Jack Gillespie, head pharmacist at Longs Drugs in Pomona. "Some doctors write promethazine and this form of it is cheaper, so people buy it, especially those on MediCal."

"We've never stocked it, however."

Gid Searle, pharmacist at Claremont Pharmacy, said "We don't have the syrup on hand and never have."

And Sharl Levantinier, head pharmacist at Miracle Arts Pharmacy in Chino, said he received a notice from the health department to remove it from his shelves, but "we've never stocked it."

$500,000 for Nixon security

Cities are wasting crime funds, Brown says

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. has accused local governments of wasting $200 million in federal aid to fight crime that included $500,000 to beef up security at former President Nixon's San Clemente estate.

Brown warned that his administration was "through with half-baked, off-the-top-of-the-head schemes" and would not use limited revenues to support criminal justice programs that fail to make California streets safe.

The governor, at a meeting Thursday of local law enforcement planning officials, also announced the appointment of E. Kim Nelson as interium director of the Office of Criminal Justice Planning.

Nelson, 52, currently dean of the Center of Public Affairs at the University of Southern California, will review $64 million in grant requests made through the state for federal law Enforcement Assistance Act funds.

The governor earlier this month ordered the review of the requests that included one for $140,000 from the city of San Clemente to provide security around the Nixon estate.

Brown told newsmen that many of the $64 million in requests made through the state would be approved, but only after careful review.

The federal government has handed out about $200 million to local agencies through LEAA since its creation, including funds for the Nixon security.

"I can't believe it," Brown told members of the California Criminal Justice Planning Directors Association. "We've spent $500,000 in the last four years to defend Nixon. Does that fit into the concept of LEAA?"

The program was set up to assist local agencies in creating plans to make streets safer. The federal government ordered the $500,000 set aside for Nixon security. The current request up for review is the first the state has had some discretion over.

"Are streets safer," the governor asked, "because $200 million-plus has been spent on regional plans and state plans?"

"I think we're $200 million farther from a solution to crime because you raised expectations," he said.

Brown spent a sometimes combative two hours asking and answering questions of the local officials who help fashion criminal justice programs.

The governor charged that local governments used "grantsmanship" to get federal and state assistance, creating pyramids of paperwork, additional layers of government and permitting planners to "get out of control" without solving the problem of soaring crime.

"We had more plans and more data to win the war in Vietnam and we lost," Brown said. "Now it's the same in the war on crime and we're losing."

Several officials argued that cities had "held the line" on crime through LEAA-financed programs by bringing the community and criminal justice system together to work out common solutions.

"I'm questioning the performance of your job," Brown countered. "You're talking to an unbeliever."

Schabarum, Ward rank as wealthiest of supervisors

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Pete Schabarum and Baxter Ward are the wealthiest county supervisors, financial reports filed with the county showed Thursday.

Schabarum listed five groups of investments, each exceeding $100,000, including stock in two real estate companies, Petro Development, Inc. and the Schabarum Cos.

Other investments include partnerships in three firms handling real estate and rentals outside Los Angeles County— Baseline Properties, Schabarum-Fiscalini and Rialto-Merill.

Valued between $10,000 and $100,000, Schabarum listed properties in La Puente and Charter Oak, his Los Angeles home, stock in the State Exploration oil firm and a participating share in the Atlantic National Real Estate Trust.

He also owns other La Puente properties valued at less than $10,000 each.

Ward said he had property in San Luis Obispo valued in the $10,000 to $100,000 bracket, and a trust deed of more than $100,000 on some Kern County land he sold last year.

He also owns a home in Tarzana and land in San Luis Obispo. These properties were noted in the $10,000 to $100,000 bracket.

Other financial reports revealed Supervisor Ed Edelman has investments in Ventures Unlimited ($10,000 to $100,000 category) and a limited partnership in the Commonwealth Avenue Apartments (under $10,000). Edelman also listed his Los Angeles home.

Supervisor James Hayes reported his Rolling Hills home on the documents and investments between $10,000 and $100,000 in the Sylvanus Corp., which has land interests in Tulare County.

Supervisor Kenneth Hahn listed only his Los Angeles home.

The financial statements were required under Proposition 9, the Political Reform Act of 1974.

Panel upholds law on older cars

Smog unit foes lose round

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The effort to repeal requirements that 1.9 million used cars in the Los Angeles region be equipped with new anti-smog devices has suffered a setback in the Assembly.

The transportation subcommittee on air quality Thursday recommended that the Assembly reject such repeal legislation. The recommendation came after lengthy hearings by the subcommittee, which considered bills to repeal Nox smog control devices for 1966-70 cars.

The vote was 4-1. The measures now go to the full Transportation Committee.

Those opposing the measures said the devices reduce oxides of nitrogen by 12 per cent and hydrocarbons by 4 per cent. They said installation of the $35 devices would eliminate 160 tons of the pollutants daily.

Assemblyman Walter Ingalls, D-Riverside, a member of the subcommittee and the chairman of the parent Transportation Committee, said the recommendation to not pass the bills was the "severest" action the subcommittee could take. Each bill still must be heard by the full committee.

The subcommittee considered three similar bills by Sens. Omer Rains, D-Ventura, (SB41), and Nate Holden, D-Culver City, (SB13), and Assemblyman Robert McClennan, R-Downey, (AB18).

The program requires owners of 1966-70 cars in the South Coast Air Basin, which includes the counties of Los Angeles, Orange, San Bernardino, Riverside, Ventura and Santa Barbara, to install the $35 devices on a month to month basis. It also requires such devices statewide when the used cars change ownership.

Holden's and Rains' measures would repeal just the requirement in the South Coast Air Basin. McClellan's bill would repeal the installation program plus the statewide requirement.

The state Air Resources Board has expressed opposition to the legislation to repeal the requirements. Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. personally has not taken a position on the bills.

The three measures, two of which narrowly passed the Senate last month, are scheduled to be heard before the Transportation Committee Wednesday.

Subcommittee members heard only opposition testimony Thursday. Proponents were heard last week.

D.A. allegedly cool to deaths in nursing homes

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A coroner's official testified Thursday that he did not notify the district attorney's office of inquest verdicts finding suspicious deaths in nursing homes, because of a "lack of interest" from that office.

Frederick S. Lacy, chief of the Inquest Division, testified in the third of a series of public hearings held by Supervisor Baxter Ward into conditions in county nursing homes.

Lacy said that since August, 1972, there have been coroner's inquests into the deaths of at least 26 convalescent hospital patients who died under questionable circumstances.

Of those, Lacy said inquest juries determined that 14 died of accidental causes, one was a suicide, three died of natural causes, and eight were "deaths at the hands of another other than by accident."

Lacy said when he started notifying the district attorney's office in 1972 of the "deaths at the hands of another" cases, he received a phone call from someone in the district attorney's office—I don't remember who—who asked why I was sending the verdicts."

He said he got the impression that the district attorney's office showed "a lack of interest."

Deputy District Attorney Mark McDonald, head of the central operations office, said that "until last week ... we never received any 'death at the hands of another' verdicts."

In other testimony Thursday, Ralph M. Bailey, chief of the coroner's investigations division, said an estimated 9,000 persons died in nursing homes in the county last year.

"We investigated about 3,000 to certify cause of manner of death," Bailey added.

Waldie quits fair politics panel because of conflict

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Jerome R. Waldie served his last day on the powerful Fair Political Practices Commission today, quitting because of controversy swirling around his new job as a Washington lobbyist.

JEROME R. WALDIE

Waldie said his two lobbying jobs, paying a total of $38,000 a year raised "a sufficient question of propriety" about him continuing as a member of the sensitive commission, which has responsibility for regulating state lobbyists.

Showing little emotion, the former congressman state assemblyman and Democratic candidate for governor sat at a dais with other commissioners at a routine meeting Thursday and read his letter of resignation. It ended 16 consecutive years in government.

The resignation came only seven weeks after Waldie was appointed to the part-time position by Democratic state Controller Ken Cory.

No replacement was announced.

It was disclosed last week that Waldie had been hired on a $35,000 a-year retainer as a Washington, D.C., lobbyist for the National Letter Carriers Association, and also was lobbying for the Federal Employes Association, of Alameda Naval Air Station. That job pays $3,000 a year, he said.

The Political Reform Act, passed by voters last June, as Prop. 9, prohibits lobbyists from serving on the commission.

But Chairman Dan Lowenstein said only state lobbyists are included in the ban.

"My present employment requires that I register as a federal lobbyist in Washington, D.C." said Waldie.

"Though such registration does not be law preclude my serving on the FPPC, I have concluded that it does raise a sufficient question as to the propriety, that I believe my resignation to be consistent with the best interests of the commission and to be also in accord with the spirit of Prop. 9."

Waldie accepted the jobs last month, but did not resign immediately, he said, because he was unaware he would formally have to register as a lobbyist.

A lawyer from the Northern California city of Antioch, Waldie now lives in Bethesda, Md. He walked the length of California last June in the Democratic gubernatorial primary but was solidly beaten by Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr.

The 50-year-old Waldie received national attention last year as a member of the House Judiciary Committee which recommend impeachment of former President Richard M. Nixon during its televised hearings.

Police helicopter back in the air

The Pomona Police helicopter patrol resumed today after being grounded since early this month as the result of an accident which disabled one of the department's two choppers.

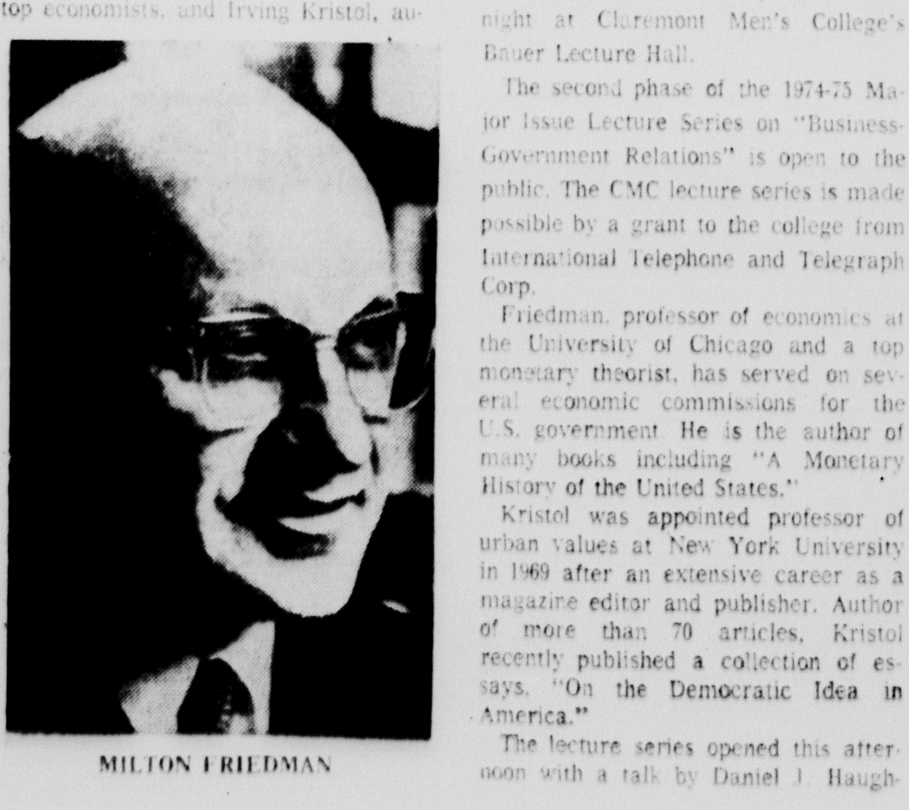
At the time of the Feb. 2 mishap, the department's other helicopter was undergoing routine maintenance, but it resumed its duties today.

Meanwhile, it still has not been determined what will become of the damaged helicopter. It sustained major damage when it crashed during the Winternationals at the west end of the dragstrip at the Los Angeles County Fairgrounds after apparently clipping power lines.

Two policemen aboard the craft were injured, and one, James R. Lungenbeel, 36, may not return to duty for a month or so. He suffered a cracked vertebra when the craft went down heavily. The other occupant, Pilot Dwight E. Lohrenz, 27, sustained only minor injuries and did not require hospitalization.

Economist, author to speak at CMC

Milton Friedman, one of the nation's top economists, and Irving Kristol, author and educator, will speak at 8 tonight at Claremont Men's College's Bauer Lecture Hall.



MILTON FRIEDMAN

The second phase of the 1974-75 Major Issue Lecture Series on "Business-Government Relations" is open to the public. The CMC lecture series is made possible by a grant to the college from International Telephone and Telegraph Corp.

Friedman, professor of economics at the University of Chicago and a top monetary theorist, has served on several economic commissions for the U.S. government. He is the author of many books including "A Monetary History of the United States."

Kristol was appointed professor of urban values at New York University in 1969 after an extensive career as a magazine editor and publisher. Author of more than 70 articles, Kristol recently published a collection of essays, "On the Democratic Idea in America."

The lecture series opened this afternoon with a talk by Daniel J. Haughton, chairman of the board of Lockheed Aircraft Corp.

The college glee club will perform after the morning convocation and again at 8:15 p.m. in Bridges Hall.

A reception for faculty and parents will be held at 3:30 p.m. in the Thatcher Music Building on the campus.

AMA sues government over Medicare rules

CHICAGO (UPI) — The American Medical Association, in an unprecedented action, has filed suit against the federal government to try to strike down regulations on admissions of Medicare and Medicaid patients to hospitals.

The suit, announced Thursday by the AMA, named Secretary Caspar Weinberger of Health, Education and Welfare as defendant and charged the HEW regulations violated the constitutional rights of patients and physicians and breeched Medicare and Medicaid laws.

Ten patients and five physicians joined the AMA in the suit, which seeks a preliminary injunction against imposing the regulations. The suit said the regulations violate the First, Fifth and Ninth Amendments.

The plaintiffs also contend the regulations violate the Social Security Act.

In addition to seeking the injunction, the suit alleged plaintiffs will be "irreparably injured" if the regulations remain in force, and asked a permanent injunction against their enforcement.

In a statement read at a news conference, AMA President Malcolm Todd said the organization was presenting the issue to the courts and the people. "Is the decision for hospital care to be made by your doctor —who knows you — or by a physician who does not know you —or worse yet, by a nonphysician?" he asked rhetorically.

"It is the first time we of the American Medical Association have taken action against HEW," Todd said. "It may not be the last.

"We serve notice now that we will oppose every attempt by the government to interfere between a patient and his or her physician."

HEW regulations, which took effect Feb. 1, require a physician's decision to put a Medicare or Medicaid patient in the hospital be evaulated by a "utilization review committee" of the hospital within a day of admission.

Hospitals were given until April 1 to file with state agencies their plans for implementing the regulations.

FIGURES IN DRUG DEATH CASE

Kenneth Moss, right, has been secretly indicted for the murder of a British rock star at a drug party where entertainer Cher Bono, left, saved another musician from death by heroin overdose.

Millionaire indicted in drug death; Cher Bono saves man from same fate

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A millionaire "whiz kid" has been secretly indicted for the murder of a British rock star at a drug party where entertainer Cher Bono saved another musician from death by heroin overdose, it was reported today.

Kenneth Moss, 31, was indicted Feb. 4 for the murder of Robbie McIntosh, 28, drummer with the Average White Band, according to the Los Angeles Times, the Los Angeles City News Service, and the New York Daily News.

The indictment was returned after a 45-minute appearance by Cher Bono before the grand jury, the reports said.

The Times, quoting "sources close to the investigation," said Mrs. Bono apparently saved the life of Alan Gorrie, the band's bass player, by taking him home and applying ice packs and keeping him walking to ward off a fatal coma.

Mrs. Bono took no drugs herself and no charges were brought against her, the reports said. The British rock musicians took what Moss told them was cocaine, but actually was heroin, the sources said.

Investigators said Moss disappeared shortly after McIntosh died last Sept. 23, and is believed to be in South America.

McIntosh died in the arms of his wife at a motel of what the coroner ruled was "acute heroin-morphine intoxication."

Moss was indicted, the reports said, under the California law that holds anyone guilty of murder if they contribute to the death of another person by committing a felony, in this case providing an illegal drug.

Moss made a fortune on Wall Street while still in his 20s, but "dropped out" five years ago, saying he had $1.5 million and needed no more. In 1973 he founded Frelandia Airways, intended to be a low-cost charter travel service, providing flights to Europe for the counterculture, on planes with such amenities as water beds and organic food.

The airline soon foundered, and Moss was under investigation by the Federal Aviation Administration, the Civil Aeronautics Board and the California attorney general.

Police are up a blind alley in shooting of motorcyclist

Glendora police today admitted they have gotten nowhere in their investigation of the wounding Feb. 11 of Vagos Motorcycle Club member Arthur Smith, 24, of Azusa.

Lt. William Hayes said that investigators have been unable to obtain any information about the circumstances of the shooting from Smith or the three men who took him to Glendora Community Hospital early that morning.

Smith, who was wounded in his right side and right shoulder, was in critical condition at one time, but today was reported improving at County-USC Medical Center.

Police said that after Smith was taken to the hospital, the ones who took him there created such a disturbance that they were arrested. They ultimately were charged with disturbing the peace and resisting arrest and are awaiting trial in Citrus Municipal Court in West Covina.

Hayes said that about all Smith and his companions would tell them about the shooting was that it took place in a residence in Glendora.

Motorcyclist hurt in crash

A 17-year-old Ontario motorcyclist was slightly injured Thursday afternoon when his motorcycle slid into the side of a car in a parking lot at 1333 N. Mountain Ave., police reported.

Mark Smith of 1430 W. Fawn Ave., Ontario, was given emergency first aid treatment for a cut leg at the scene by fire department personnel and released.

Police said Smith slid into a car driven by Willie Shields, 67, of 740 W. La Deney St., Ontario, and was thrown over the top of the vehicle.

$6,000 loss in house fire

A house fire in west Pomona caused about $6,000 damage to the structure and its contents early this morning.

Sheila Clayton called firemen after hearing popping noises and seeing smoke emitting from a bedroom of her home at 2423 Michael Place. Mrs. Clayton was helping her children get ready for school when she discovered the fire at 7:22 a.m.

Fire Chief John Fowlkes said the fire started when a bed, pushed up against a shorted out electrical outlet, ignited from the sparks. There was about $4,000 damage to the structure and $2,000 loss to the contents.

Area man found dead in apartment

A 42-year-old man was found dead, apparently of natural causes, in his apartment at 475 E. Foothill Blvd., Pomona, Thursday afternoon.

The victim, Jack Lee Baumgardner, was discovered by Jacqueline Godsoe, manager of the apartment building at that address. The body was taken to Todd Memorial Chapel in Pomona and an autopsy was ordered.

Police said the victim had collapsed in his room and was observed through a window as the manager passed the apartment.

ROBERT CANTALUPO

Man alive with pig's heart valve

BOSTON (UPI) — Robert Cantalupo has been living for the past nine months sustained by a pig's heart valve.

Doctors at Childrens Hospital Medical Center attached a half pound U-shaped metal and dacron device containing the valve to Cantalupo's heart last year, but waited until Thursday, when they were sure the operation was a success, to announce the achievement.

Cantalupo, 23, of East Boston, was born with an underdeveloped passage in his heart and had been confined to a bed prior to the operation. Doctors said then he was not expected to live much longer.

However, Cantalupo, although he is also a deaf-mute, is now enrolled at Boston University and bowls regularly. He is studying sign language.

Dr. William F. Bernhard attached the device, engineered by Thermo Electron Corp., of Waltham, to Cantalupo's left ventricle, bypassing the constricted passage.

Fail to go on record

Governors frustrated in opposition to Ford plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Not since the pre-World War II days when the Polish Parliament required a unanimous vote to pass laws has any group of public officials found itself in a more frustrating position.

The nation's governors, closing their three-day winter meeting Thursday, voted 28-12 to support congressional Democrats' demand for a 90-day delay in President Ford's plan to cut back energy use by raising the tariff on oil imports.

But the 70 per cent majority was not enough to put the governors on record. The rules required a 75 per cent majority to adopt a policy position, meaning 11 governors of the 40 at the final meeting could block action.

Because of that rule, Gov. Thomas Salmon, D-Vt., chairman of the natural resources subcommittee, tried to get the conference to eliminate the offending antitariff language, but that effort at compromise foundered on another rule. It required a two-thirds vote to amend a resolution, and most of the 36 Democratic governors were not amenable to the change.

At that point, the governors appeared to be impaled on their own conference rules —unable to pass any energy resolution even though it covered a lot more ground than the tariff controversy, but also unable to get the tariff language out. This was particularly galling because the governors have been appealing for action on the energy crisis longer than anyone else.

But the political situation overshadowed other considerations. A resolution urging delay on the tariff would seem to be another slap at Ford, who is battling for enough votes in Congress to sustain a veto of legislation to suspend his tariff plan. So the Republicans had 12 of their 13 conference rules to block action.

The impasse was broken when Salmon called his subcommittee back into session and, with Gov. Daniel Evans, D-Wash., as the main author, came up with a compromise. Instead of supporting either the President or Congress, the governors called for quick action on a tough conservation program that would be tried for four to six months before any "price mechanism" —tariff or tax plan —is used. It also said an oil allocation plan —like the one used in the 1973-74 gasoline crunch —should be prepared and held ready for use if all else failed.

This satisfied enough governors so that the conference could vote to adjourn without egg on their faces. Before they did, the governors changed their rules to permit a two-thirds majority in the future to pass resolutions. It took a three-quarters vote to make the change, but on this issue the vote was unanimous.

Dr. Edelin uses obscure law to overturn verdict

BOSTON (UPI) — Dr. Kenneth Edelin, convicted of manslaugher as a result of a legal abortion he performed, has invoked an obscure state law in an effort to win a new trial or have his guilty verdict overturned.

The little-used state law, backed up by a 1944 state supreme court decision, allows a judge to overrule a jury's verdict if the judge feels it was arrived at not by the evidence, but because of prejudice.

Defense attorney William Homans invoked the law Thursday in asking Judge James P. McGuire either to declare Edelin innocent or to order a new trial in order to avoid "a miscarriage of justice."

Edelin, who has kept his job as head of ambulatory services in the obstetrics and gynecology department at Boston City Hospital pending his appeal, was sentenced to one year's probation.

Homans cited a 1944 state supreme court ruling that "It is the right and duty of the trial judge to set aside a verdict when in his judgment it is so greatly against the weight of the evidence as to induce in his mind the strong belief that it was the product of bias, misapprehension or prejudice.

"For a trial judge ... to grant a new trial on the ground that the verdict was against the weight of the evidence, it must appear that the verdict, if allowed to stand, would work a miscarriage of justice."

Thieves get $2,000 worth of jewelry in valley home

A $2,000 burglary was reported by an ONTARIO resident Thursday night.

Newman Draper, owner of Draper Mortuary in Ontario, reported to police Thursday night that burglars broke into his home at 924 W. Granada Court and stole jewelry.

Draper said he returned home about 9:15 p.m. and discovered the burglary. The burglars stole a charm bracelet with 12 to 14 charms valued at $400, a ring with 12 diamonds and three pearls valued at $1,500 and other jewelry valued at over $100.

SPOTLIGHT ON CRIME

Draper said some of the charms on the bracelet included a covered wagon, an oak leaf, a cuckoo clock and a cable car.

Also in ONTARIO police arrested a 27-year-old Montclair man accused of breaking a window in a house at 209 E. F St. early this morning in an attempted burglary.

Thomas Ray Glenn, 27, of 10017 Fremont St., Montclair, was booked in the West End Jail this morning on suspicion of burglary and possession of narcotics.

Police said a resident in the block heard the glass breaking at the home of Diane Mooh, 209 E. F St. Mrs. Mooh was not home at the time. Police arrived at the home in time to spot the suspect leaving.

A search of the suspect revealed he possessed a small quantity of narcotics, officers said.

In POMONA two youths with stockings over their heads robbed Rita's Uniforms at 1534 W. Mission Blvd. Thursday evening.

The owner, Rita McCammon, 62, said the pair entered, one pulled a small pistol from his pocket and demanded money. They fled on foot.

Both men were described as Negroes. One was 5 feet 10 and wore a red knit cap. The other was 5 feet 11 and wore a blue stocking cap.

A young Corona man told POMONA police early today he was robbed of his wallet by two men who had given him a ride while he was hitchhiking.

John M. Westenberger said they picked him up at Mission Boulevard and the Corona Expressway, drove him to the expressway and Dudley Street and then kicked him out after taking his wallet.

The one who kicked him was a Caucasian about 24, 5 feet 8 weighing 160 pounds. He had collar-length brown hair, a mustache and wore a plaid shirt.

A 68-year-old woman was pushed down and her purse stolen in the 200 block of W. Foothill Boulevard in POMONA Thursday afternoon.

Viola Haris, who lives nearby, suffered a bump on her head, but did not require immediate medical attention. She said the thief ran up behind her, grabbed her purse containing $10 and shoved her before fleeing.

He was described as a Negro about 15, 5 feet tall weighing 130 pounds. He wore a watch cap and blue jeans.

CHINO police this morning are searching for the driver of a red car who forced a 16-year-old Chino High School girl into his car Thursday morning and raped her in an isolated area of the city.

Police reported the girl was forced into the car by a Caucasian, about 30, and driven to the western portion of the city about 6:30 a.m. where she was raped. The girl said she was then driven back to the high school and released.

Police said the suspect had dark hair combed straight back, and long sideburns.

CHINO police and fire inspectors this morning are investigating a fire bombing at Montoya's Market, 13102 Third St.

It was the second attempted arson on the small market in less than six months.

Fire inspectors said they received a call that the side of the market was on fire about 10 p.m. and sent several trucks to the scene. When firemen arrived the fire had gone out. Firemen found bits and pieces of glass from a broken milk bottle and detected a strong odor of gasoline.

Inspectors said it appeared that an arsonist tried to throw a molotov cocktail on the roof of the building, but it rolled off and the flaming liquid flowed down the side of the building. The building is of concrete block construction and little damage resulted, inspectors said.

Reflected in lower standard of living

Americans are getting less for more

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The average American's standard of living eroded sharply in 1974, according to new data from the federal government.

Higher utility prices encouraged more consumers to turn down thermostats and use fewer electric lights. Cars were driven less. Shoppers bought fewer cars and appliances and less food and clothing.

Despite it all, Americans were able to save less because prices increased faster than income and millions of workers lost their jobs or worked fewer hours.

"This is the largest recession of the postwar era," a Commerce Department spokesman told UPI Thursday.

Treasury Secretary William Simon said the recession "might be the steepest one, and probably will, since the 1930's."

But Simon, in a U.S. Chamber of Commerce interview on the Mutual Broadcasting System, said President Ford's proposed tax cut would "provide the stimulus" to revive the economy by late fall.

Simon said the economy was in a slump because of excessive federal spending. "Now, we've had excesses in this country for a great many years and after excesses ... there is a period of paying the bills."

The Commerce Department said the Gross National Product —the value of the national output of goods and services — fell 5.1 per cent from December, 1973 to December, 1974. The 3.9 per cent decline in 1957-58 had been the worst since 1946 when the nation was converting from arms production to a peacetime economy.

"Real" GNP shrank from an annual rate of $845.7 billion at the end of 1973 to an annual rate of $803.8 billion at the end of 1974, Commerce said.

Per capita income, corrected for inflation, slipped from $2,952 at the end of 1973 to $2,798 at the end of 1974. Personal savings dropped from 9.5 per cent of disposable income to 8.6 per cent.

Consumer spending for cars, appliances and other durable goods was down 13 cent less on food and clothing.

Prices were 10.3 per cent higher, spurred by a record 14.4 per cent surge in the final three months of the year.

Obituaries

Ray V. Marshall

Ray V. Marshall, 80, Balboa Island, died Tuesday at his home following a long illness.

Mr. Marshall was born in Pomona, son of a pioneer family that moved into the valley in the 1860s. He spent his childhood in Pomona then moved to El Monte when he married and worked as a salesman.

Later he moved to Balboa where he worked as West Coast representative for Owens Yachts. He retired a number of years ago.

As a youth, he was a member, of the Pilgrim Congregational Church in Pomona.

TOUGH JOB — Robert M. Rees, 48, the new warden at San Quentin, California's toughest prison, says he has no easy answers on how to deal with problems at the violence-torn institution. Rees, a World War II Army segeant, said he favors a new program called "prison within a prison." The plan involves building a facility within San Quentin to house inmates prison officials believe are too violent to mingle with the other inmates.

Less penalties for marijuana backed by Pine

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A reduction in penalties for possession of marijuana would save police thousands of hours in work, City Attorney Burt Pines said Thursday.

Pines said that a bill by Sen. George Moscone, now before the state legislature, "is a realistic solution to the present realities of the criminal justice system."

Moscone's bill provides that possession, transportation or transfer of less than one ounce of marijuana would be a misdemeanor, instead of the present possible felony offense, punishable by a maximum fine of $100.

Pines said such action would free the Los Angeles Police Department from 1,200 hours a year spent in enforcing the current laws.

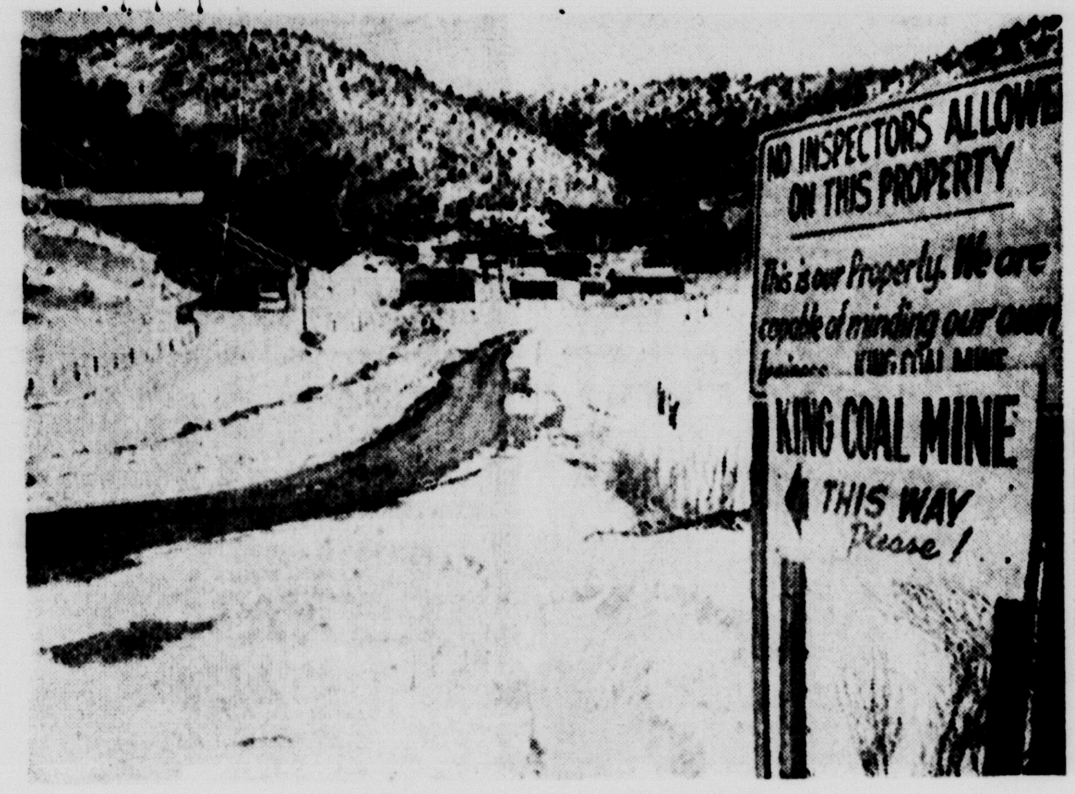
FIGHTS BUREAUCRATS — Mrs. Violet Smith, 69, who owns and operates the King Coal Mine at Hesperus, Colo., says she's got God and guns on her side and she's prepared to use both in her fight against "those damn federal bureaucrats in Denver and Washington." Mrs. Smiths problems began when the government asked for royalty payments of four per cent per ton of coal's valuation. Mrs. Smith's original federal lease signed in 1941 calls for 15 cents per ton of coal. The woman is refusing to pay more than $2,100 in back increased royalities. Violet Smith is pictured with coal miners at the mine.



THE KING COLE MINE

All jet fleet

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Delivery of three Fokker F28s from Holland has given Argentine Airlines an all-jet fleet. The medium range Fokker twin jets carry 65 passengers. They replace British-made Avro748 turbo-prop craft formerly used on domestic flights.

Mine owner in dispute with U.S.

She'll use God, guns in fight

HESPERUS, Colo. (UPI) — Violet Smith, 69, says she has God and guns on her side — and she's prepared to use both in her fight against "those damn federal bureaucrats in Denver and Washington."

"I've been a hard-shell Baptist all my life and I pray about this every night," Mrs. Smith said. "But I'm not going to let the government crucify me and tromple me in the mud.

"I've got guns and my neighbors have got guns, and if that's what it takes to keep them off my land, that's the way it'll be," she said.

Mrs. Smith's problems stem from a federal lease signed on 40 acres of coal land adjacent to a 120-acre lease she and her husband have mined since 1941.

She says she was under the impression the lease provided for royalty payments of 15 cents per ton of coal, as her previous leases had. But when the papers arrived from Denver, she found they called for royalty payments of 4 per cent of the coal's valuation.

"I told them I wasn't going to sign them but USGS. (U.S. Geological Survey) officials in Denver told me I'd be fined $10,000 for penetrating the coal if I didn't," she said. "The bastards didn't leave me much choice."

She also said federal officials toured the mine and used their own figures to determine the coal's valuation — figures she heartily disagrees with.

"Those idiots in their offices don't know good coal from bad," she said. "The 15 cents a ton I'm willing to pay on this coal more than covers its value and if the truth were known the government probably owes me some back."

Bureau of Land Management officials said Wednesday they had written Mrs. Smith's bonding company demanding payment of $2,140 in back royalties for the period Dec. 31, 1973-June 30, 1974. Mrs. Smith says she'll sue the bonding company if it pays.

"I don't have time to go to court like those damn federal bureaucrats in Denver and Washington do, but it might come to that," she said.

Mrs. Smith, who lives with her 73-year-old husband, Irvin, says "I've had a thousand people call me and tell me not to give in. Lots of my neighbors have told me just to call and they'll come running with their guns.

"... A body's got to take a stand somewhere and this mine is ours. If the government wants us off they're going to have to move us by force, and I promise you it won't be an easy job."

Mills' spouse has surgery; tumor benign

SEARCY, Ark. (UPI) — Mrs. Polly Mills, wife of Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., underwent surgery in a Washington hospital Thursday for removal of a tumor, which doctors reported was benign.

The Searcy Daily Citizen reported that Mrs. Mills entered the private hospital two days ago for a physical examination and surgery.

A spokesman in Mills' office said: "A tumor was removed, put through the pathological process and determined to be benign. Mrs. Mills is doing well and should be released from the hospital in a few days."

Diesel is most economic engine

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — Diesel engines give the best fuel economy and could provide an answer to the automotive energy crisis, a researcher said Wednesday.

"It's no coincidence that big trucks, railroads, ships, stationary engines and heavy construction equipment utilize diesel engines," said Karl J. Springer, director of emissions research at Southwest Research Institute.

"They give you the best fuel efficiency."

Springer said diesel engines could save up to 70 per cent of the fuel used by their gasoline counterparts.

He said in dynamometer stop and go tests simulating city driving at the institute, diesel engines powering a 3,000 to 3,500 pound automobile have averaged 26.6 miles per gallon, and under highway type driving they can get even better mileage.

Springer said emissions from diesel engines of smoke, particulate matter and odor could be largely eliminated through research.

Presently, diesel autos are more expensive to buy, he said, but the price could be reduced through mass production.

Springer based his judgments on data obtained for a research paper he and Ralph C. Stahman, chief of the technology assessment and evaluation branch of the EPA, will present at the Society of Automotive Engineers meeting Feb. 27 in Detroit.

"How come my electric bill is so high? And we've been using less."

We know your electric bill is higher. A lot higher—even though you're conserving electricity. Why? Primarily because of the increased cost of oil.

It's our job to provide the electricity you, your family and your job require. And we must do so in a manner that meets all air pollution control regulations. This means burning foreign, low sulfur oil in Edison generating plants. The price is set by foreign governments, and it more than tripled in the last 18 months. It could go even higher. Since January, 1972, the increasing costs of oil and the additional amounts we have had to buy are responsible for almost 90% of the increase in your electric bills.

So we won't always be so dependent on foreign oil, we're spending millions of dollars building coal and nuclear plants. We are also researching new ways to generate electricity—without foreign oil. Geothermal power. Solar power. Fuel cells. Fast breeder reactors. Nuclear fusion. Research is costly, but it will also help to reduce our reliance on foreign oil.

Projects related to the environment are expensive, too, and in 1974 will account for about 20% of our capital expenditures. In the past six years, $325 million were required to be spent for such projects. It looks like we will have to spend another $450 million for environmental purposes within the next four year period.

On top of all this, inflation is eating into our budget—as it is yours. The cost of constructing new plants is 10 times higher than it was a few years ago, and borrowing costs have more than doubled.

Your electric bill will reflect these rising costs. What can you do to hold down your bill? Budget your use of electricity wisely. For ways to do this, send for our free booklet. Write: "Conservation," Edison, P.O. Box 800, Rosemead, CA 91770.

No more astronaut glamor

Spacemen's secretary now labors in a bank

How . . Americans . . cope . . with . . recession

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — She was young and pretty, a girl on the go, the envy of her friends as personal secretary to the American astronauts.

"I thought it was going to go on forever," says Trudy Johnson, a 23-year-old blonde who has lived all her life in Brevard County. "I thought, 'Here I am. I'm young and this is the place to be.'

"Then all of a sudden they cut back. It's depressing for me, really a disillusion."

A victim of the massive layoffs at Kennedy Space Center, which contributed to the county's 11.4 per cent unemployment rate, highest in the state, Miss Johnson had to take a big cut in pay to go to work in a bank. She clears about $75 a week.

But even at that Miss Johnson considers herself luckier than some of her friends.

"I know a lot of people who have gone back to live with their folks because of the money situation," she said. "My roommate was one of them."

Miss Johnson earned $125 to $150 a week in 1971 when she went to work as secretary to the chief of the astronauts at Cape Kennedy. Today she works longer hours for shorter pay, but more than that, she misses the excitement of the space boom days.

"I felt involved," she said. "I just felt more motivated. It was exciting. Now I'm just depressed."

Her father, once employed by a large space contractor, has returned to selling used cars.

The unemployment rate in Brevard County climbed from 9.9 per cent in November to 11.4 per cent in December, as compared with an 8.3 per cent average statewide.

Another 1,200 workers will lose their jobs after July's Russian-American joint launch. Then there will be gradual rebuilding toward the space shuttle program later in the decade.

NASA employed more than 26,000 persons at the peak of the space race in 1964. Today the number is about 10,000. The Air Force employed another 27,741 in 1964 at its Eastern Test Range, and today employes about 13,000.

Serious employment problems in Brevard County started in the summer of 1969 when 6,000 were laid off following the Apollo 11 moon landing. Several thousand more were dropped the following year.

That's when engineers discovered welfare.

Edna Stolz, director of county welfare, said she noticed a big increase in the number of well dressed persons driving expensive cars applying for federal food.

Other executives in the area took big pay cuts to keep their jobs. Some went into business for themselves.

Alan Brang, an aerospace engineer for 10 years with a salary of more than $20,000 a year, organized his own firm to manufacture salt and pepper shakers, spice racks, and Scuba valves. With six children to feed, his wife went to work for the first time in 20 years.

"We're hamburger oriented and have just retrenched on everything," he said. "But we think we have got something going now."

David Wright, 56, an aerospace engineer for 15 years, couldn't find a job in a year and a half of trying.

"Most of the people said, 'Your qualities are fine, but we can't use you at the moment,'" he said. "In instances where a job might be open they don't dare say you are too old. It is against the law. But the feeling is that any of us over 45 are in trouble.

Wright started taking courses in real estate and got er type of business," he said.

Another engineer sold his his license. "Many engineers will have to go into some othhouse and moved his family aboard a 41-foot boat to go into the maritime business. Others took temporary jobs as janitors or grocery store bag boys. One purchased a bait bucket business called "Keep-em-alive."

Legislator says Watergate has hurt 'plumbing trade'

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — State Rep. Frank Giglio, a master plumber, says his trade has been subjected to "public ridicule and scorn" by repeated references to the White House "plumbers" unit.

Giglio, a Democrat from Calumet City, introduced a resolution urging the media to stop using the term in connection with former President Nixon's Watergate coverup.

Giglio said many people believe all Watergate-related abuses of power were performed by the White House "plumbers".

"The entire world has been bombarded daily by every branch of the news media with the totally false assertations that all of those illegal amoral and (worst of all) incompetent actions were performed by members of the plumbing profession," Giglio's resolution says.

No fault divorce: there's good and bad news

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — In the five years since California introduced "no fault divorce," dissolutions of marriage have jumped 25 per cent and the head of the Los Angeles County family courts is not sure it was altogether a good idea.

The law permits one party to a marriage to break the bond with the simple assertion that there are "irreconcilable differences" and no chance of reconciliation.

In 1969, the last year before the law went into effect, there were 28,704 divorces in Los Angeles County. In 1970 there were 39,664 dissolutions and last year there were 38,796.

Superior Court Judge Nancy Watson believes the new procedure has definite advantages over the old divorce law which required proof of grounds of adultery, extreme cruelty, willful desertion or neglect or habitual intemperance.

"It is definitely better in that it is a means of people ceasing to cling to marriages that had long lost any love or meaning or happiness for either party," Judge Watson said.

The 48-year-old judge, herself mother of four children, said another positive aspect is that it has eliminated the messy business of private investigators getting evidence of infidelity and principals and witnesses perjuring themselves for a divorce.

But Judge Watson is concerned about the sharp rise in the dissolution rate. It had been expected to jump the first year but most sociologists had expected it to drop back down and it has not.

"When you enter into a marriage, it is a mutual agreement, a contract between two parties," she said.

"Now it is possible for one of those parties to break the contract unilaterally and I'm not at all sure that is right. Perhaps there should be a greater period of delay. But that is up to the legislature, not the courts."

Judge Watson said that no one who has been married for a number of years has not gone through periods of stress and that a great many marriages which have withstood those trials undoubtedly would have broken up had divorce been so easy.

In the dissolution hearings now, some of which last less than five minutes, there is no testimony or evidence of wrongdoing on the part of husband or wife unless there is a question of custody of children.

Property is divided equally no matter who files the suit and that has, rather unexpectedly, caused complications.

Judge Watson said that it is now necessary for family courts to become accountants and make decisions down to the last dollar on the worth of various assets so they can be divided 50-50.

Many husbands and wives still cannot accept the fact they not only are not required to recount the misbehavior of their spouses but are not permitted to do so.

"That's certainly one thing we judges have to be thankful for," Judge Watson said.

Bomb threat merely ruse to spring pal

VIENNA (UPI) — Police were puzzled why a 15-year old boy made a bomb hoax telephone call to a school.

Then the boy confessed his friend was being kept after school for misbehavior and he wanted to get him out.

Marines mark Iwo Jima battle

SAN BRUNO (UPI) — It was drizzling Wednesday when Marines attached to the Fourth Marine Division commemorated the 30th anniversary of the landing at Iwo Jima in a ceremony at Golden Gate National Cemetery.

The flag was lowered, there was an 18-rifle salute and a combat helmet was placed atop a rifle that had been bayoneted into the ground, the traditional makeshift marker for the grave of a Marine killed in combat.

It was time for diamonds

If West could have seen all the cards, he would have opened his singleton club and South would have had no play for the spade slam. Fortunately for South, West led the queen of hearts.

South won, looked over dummy and saw that he had 11 top tricks. One simple way to play the hand would be to draw trumps, cash dummy's ace of clubs, come back to his hand by ruffing a diamond and lead a second club. That would bring home the contract, unless East had started with the guarded king-jack of clubs, which is just what he did happen to hold.

A little bit of sound thinking showed South that there was no hurry about trying clubs: he could go after diamonds first and make a 12th trick if that suit broke 4-3.

Therefore, South cashed one high trump to see that no one held all five, led a diamond to dummy, ruffed a diamond, entered dummy with the nine of trumps, ruffed another diamond, drew the last trump. He tried the club finesse to see if he could make seven and claimed the contract after that finesse lost.

20 per cent of population said atheists

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Madalyn Murray O'Hair complained Tuesday that just as there are "closet homosexuals" who hide their true preferences, there are "closet atheists."

Mrs. O'Hair, whose lawsuit led the U.S. Supreme Court to ban school prayers in 1963, estimated that 20 per cent of the U.S. population is made up of such atheists. "They should come out of the closet," she told a news conference. "I can see why most atheists don't come out in the open. They don't want members of their families on their backs, and nobody wants to take the kind of punishment I do."

She said about 30,000 families belong to her Austin, Tex., based Society of Separationists, and a survey indicated that 60 per cent of them are Republicans and 25 per cent Democrats. It is difficult to organize atheists, she complained. "They aren't joiners."

Consumer chief urges patience

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Virginia Knauer, the nation's director of consumer affairs, has words for you. In her current newsletter Mrs. Knauer makes this point:

"... and remember there is hope. Across this country, some of the best minds that civilization has ever produced are working night and day to solve our economic and energy problems.

"These problems will be solved, don't doubt it for a minute. But it will require time, sacrifice, patience and a commitment from each and every one of us."

Kuwait to get U.S. military advisers

KUWAIT (UPI) — Kuwait's defense minister said today U.S. military advisers will come to this Persian Gulf state to train Kuwaitis in using the $250 million in sophisticated American weapons bought in 1974.

Defense Minister Sheikh Sadd Al Abdallah said some Kuwaiti military personnel were already in the United States learning how to use the missiles, planes and transport equipment Kuwait bought from the United States last December.

He did not indicate how many U.S. advisers would be stationed in Kuwait or when they would arrive.

German pilot dies in Arizona crash

LUKE AFB, Ariz. (UPI) — A 32-year-old captain of the West German Air Force was killed Tuesday when his F104 jet fighter crashed on the Gila Bend gunnery range.

Base officials identified the victim as Capt. Hans J. Huebner, Duesseldorf, West Germany.

The plane crashed during a routine training mission.

Mormon-heavy Utah House rejects ERA

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — The Utah House of Representatives overwhelmingly rejected the Equal Rights Amendment Tuesday after the Mormon Church announced its official opposition.

The House, 70 per cent of whose members are Mormons, voted 21-54 against becoming the 35th state to ratify the 27th Amendment. It must be approved by 38 states to become part of the federal constitution.

Seven of the state's eight women legislators voted for the amendment, which proponents say would guarantee women equal rights under the law.

Budget chief sees housing comeback

WASHINGTON (UPI) — James T. Lynn, the administration's new budget director, said today the depressed housing industry should begin to bounce back by late spring or early summer.

"I see very good signs with money coming back into the savings and loans that we'll have housing back on the track, getting upward within the next three or four months," Lynn said.

Lynn, who served for two years as secretary of Housing and Urban Development, also said President Ford's proposed $52 billion budget deficit "bothers me very greatly" because the federal government would be forced into borrowing great sums of money to finance the deficit.

Auckland volcano erupts; no injuries

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (UPI) — New Zealand's largest active volcano, Mount Ngauruhoe, erupted today, throwing 30-foot boulders thousands of feet into the air and showering ashes onto towns up to 20 miles away.

There were no immediate reports of deaths or injuries but residents of towns near the volcano were prepared to evacuate if ashes contaminated their water supplies.

The volcano had been belching smoke and ash for the past few days, but the blasts which rocked the area were unexpected. Experts had earlier flown over the volcano and declared that it was quiet.

Pan Am planning to reduce Asia flights

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Financially ailing Pan American World Airways has announced cost-cutting plans for flights to Tokyo, Tapei and Okinawa.

The airline will begin three-a-week flights from San Francisco to Taipei and Okinawa March 2 as the result of a cost cutting exchange with Trans World Airlines, a Pan Am spokesman said Thursday.

Pan Am's present daily flights to Tokyo on a Great Circle route from New York through Fairbanks, Alaska, would be replaced April 9 by 747 flights stopping in San Francisco, pending approval of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The airline told the CAB it averaged only 11.5 local passengers per day in each direction between New York and Fairbanks. Continuing the service would result in a loss of $3.17 million in 1975, Pan Am said. The company announced a net loss of $81.7 million in 1974.

Woman, 139, dies, Russ press reports

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Tass news agency said today one of the oldest women on earth, Khfaf Lasuria, a narrator of local tales and legends, has died. She was 139.

Tass said she died in Kutol village in the Caucasian region of Abkhazia.

She left more than 100 grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren, the agency said.

Student slain in crowded subway bus

NEW YORK (UPI) — A 23-year-old college student was stabbed to death on a crowded subway car Tuesday. Police later arrested three teenagers and charged them with murder.

Police said Paul Walter, a graduate student in psychology at the New School for Social Research here, was approached by three youths in the last car of a subway train during the Tuesday afternoon rush hour.

The attackers demanded Walter's wallet, police said, and when he failed to hand it over, he was stabbed three times. All three youths fled when the train stopped at the next station.

Hearings for 4 linked to gun spree delayed

Preliminary hearings for four Chino men accused of taking part in the Feb. 2 Chino shooting spree that left a 7-year-old La Puente boy and three other persons seriously wounded have been continued to March 7 in Chino Municipal Court.

Accused in the case are Michael Joseph Langarica, 4722 Mt. Vernon Ave., Chino, charged with assault with force likely to cause great bodily harm; David Lee Martinez, 13209 Monte Vista Ave., charged with accessory to assault; Robert Gonzales Esparza of 13257 Fourth St., Chino; and Patrick David Ramirez, Chino, charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

Judge James A. Edwards, sitting in for Judge Philip E. Schaefer, who is out of town, granted the unusually long delay due to the defense attorneys' schedules that would not permit them to present their case until March.

New Emergency room treats 104

In its first week of operation, the Park Avenue Hospital's emergency room treated 104 patients.

The emergency facility at 1225 N. Park Ave., Pomona, was opened recently as a community service. It is equipped to handle approximately 1,200 patients a month.

The emergency room is open 24 hours a day with specially trained physicians on duty at all times. In addition, specialists from all hospital departments are available when the need arises.

Cost of first class postage may jump

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The cost of the first class postage stamp may climb to 13 cents an ounce later this year and to 15 cents by the end of 1977, postal service officials said Thursday.

Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar said the rate-setting process must be speeded up. Jesse T. Ellington Jr., his senior assistant, said rate increases are likely to be needed in two-year intervals between now and 1979.

The two testified at a hearing of the House Post Office Committee.

A first class letter cost 3 cents an ounce for 26 years, from 1932 until 1958. It was 4 cents until 1963, 5 cents until 1968, 6 cents until 1971, 8 cents until last year, and the present rate of 10 cents since then.

Ellington said costs will continue to escalate, and added:

"To cover these costs, the price of a first class stamp may increase to as much as 13 cents this year and be at 15 cents by the end of the period (1979)."

He called the increases "generally in line with the growth of prices in the economy as a whole."

Bailar testified that a faster rate-setting process is "an absolute imperative."

Under the present process, the 10 cent rate imposed in 1974 is, at least technically, still temporary. It has not yet been approved by the Postal Rate Board.

Bailar said the present ratemaking system "in today's economic conditions ... is not working."

"As it is presently functioning, it will imperil our ability to operate on a fair and reasonable basis," he told the committee. "So long as we are faced with the sharply rising costs of inflation, the system simply cannot tolerate the length of time that adjustments now take."

He emphasized that a time limit on rate-making procedures "is an absolute imperative," and said "we urgently need a more responsive rate-setting process."

Derriere not best target for needle

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — The derriere, a favorite target for physicians since the invention of the hypodermic needle, may not be the best spot for a shot after all.

Researchers at the Medical College of Virginia say they have found that medicine injected into the arm muscle enters the blood stream faster than if it had been shot into the buttocks muscles or the thigh.

The discovery could be a lifesaver in situations when an emergency drug, such as the heart drug lidocaine, must act on the body quickly, research director Eleanor Evans said Wednesday.

But she said nonemergency medicine such as penicillin and immunization drugs would not benefit from arm muscle injection. She said they are more satisfactory when released slowly.

Burglary prevention

The Diamond Bar Homeowners Association will sponsor a burglary prevention clinic Feb. 24 from 7:30 to 10 p.m. at the Diamond Bar Country Club.

It will be conducted by the Los Angeles County Burglary Prevention Department in conjunction with the City of Industry Sheriff's Station.

A recent increase in household burglaries in the community prompted the clinic, homeowners said.

The sheriff's representatives will provide information concerning methods and devices to be used to prevent or discourage home burglaries. Proper door locks and how to burglar-proof windows will be explained.

Support grows to name hospital after him

Pettis's widow will seek his Congress post

Mrs. Shirley Pettis said Thursday she will seek the Congressional seat left vacant by the tragic death of her husband last week, and more support for naming the new Veterans Administration Hospital in Loma Linda in his honor was reported.

Jerry Pettis, serving his fifth term in the U.S. House of Representatives, was killed Feb. 14 when his private plane crashed in the San Bernardino Mountains near Banning.

"I can never be Jerry but I love the people of this district and I will give them all I have," said Mrs. Pettis in declaring her candidacy.

Her decision to seek election is expected to prevent other Republicans from seeking the office.

Mentioned as possible candidates are Assemblyman Jerry Lewis, R-67th Dist., and former Congressman Victor Veysey.

The 37th Congressional District extends from San Bernardino to the Arizona state line and includes much of San Bernardino County's desert and mountain areas.

Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. must by law set a special election before Feb. 28. A primary election must be held within two months and the general election within 91 days from when the seat was declared vacant.

There will be only one ballot, with all candidates listed together.

Meanwhile, Rep. Jim Lloyd, D-35th Dist., said he will formulate formal requests today to ask the Veterans Administration and the House Committee on Veterans Affairs to have the new hospital now under construction named the Jerry Pettis Veterans Hospital.

Mr. Pettis was a man of great ability, personal dignity and outstanding legislative capability," Lloyd said. "I think it would be a most fitting tribute to name the hospital in honor of Mr. Pettis."

The San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors is also expected Monday to decide on a similar resolution, said Supervisor James Mayfield.

And Mayor Bob McLeod of Chino said he would ask that City Council to support such a proposal.

Naming of the hospital was proposed by state Sen. Ruben Ayala, D-32nd Dist., who had worked with Mr. Pettis while Ayala served as chairman of the San Bernardino County Board of Supervisors.

"What is ironic," said Ayala, "is that Mr. Pettis never served with any military service." During World War II, Mr. Pettis was a pilot in the Air Transport Command and assigned to the Pacific Theater. He was accorded full military honors at his burial, Ayala noted.

The $60 million, 500-bed hospital is being constructed near the Loma Linda School of Medicine. Work began in 1974 and is set for completion in June of 1977.

MSAC enrollment spurts 21% in one year

Tight job market, especially for young, believed reason

An all time high enrollment of 19,584 students for the spring semester is reported by the Mt. San Antonio College.

The enrollment is 21 per cent higher than a year ago and 5 per cent higher than for last fall, according to Dennis Meyer, vice president in charge of student services.

The most spectacular growth is in the number of students enrolled in both day and evening classes which increased 88 per cent from 1,968 a year ago to 3,698 this month.

But there is also an increase in every other category. Daytime enrollment went from 6,990 to 7,407, a 6 per cent rise; and evening enrollment jumped from 7,224 to 8,479, a 17 per cent increase.

Meyer attributed the unusual spurt in enrollment to economic factors.

"When there are few jobs, people, especially young people, turn to the college for more education and training," he explained to the board of trustees Thursday night. "I think the high enrollment will continue until the job market opens up."

James Simpson, vice president in charge of business services, told the board that the growth in enrollment was not limited to MSAC.

"I attended a meeting recently with administrators from 10 other colleges," he said, "and they all report increased enrollment."

It was the first time in the history of the college that spring enrollment exceeded fall registration. Meyer said the college usually loses students during the second semester of the year.

But this year teachers are reporting an average increase of five to 10 students in their classloads.

The record enrollment was one of several factors which prompted newly elected trustee Charles Hall to call for an expansion of the board from five to seven members, each to represent his own area.

He said the MSAC district is larger than most congressional districts and represents more than a half million people. Hall said the people would be served better through his plan than through the present system of election at large.

But his motion to request county Superintendent of Schools Richard Clowes to make a study on the proposal died for lack of a second.

Hall then told the rest of the trustees that he would gain consideration of his proposal through an initiative filed directly with the county.

Manslaughter charge is filed against trucker

A misdemeanor manslaughter complaint has been filed against a Santa Monica truck driver whose rig sideswiped two men standing along the Orange Freeway in Diamond Bar Saturday night, killing one of them.

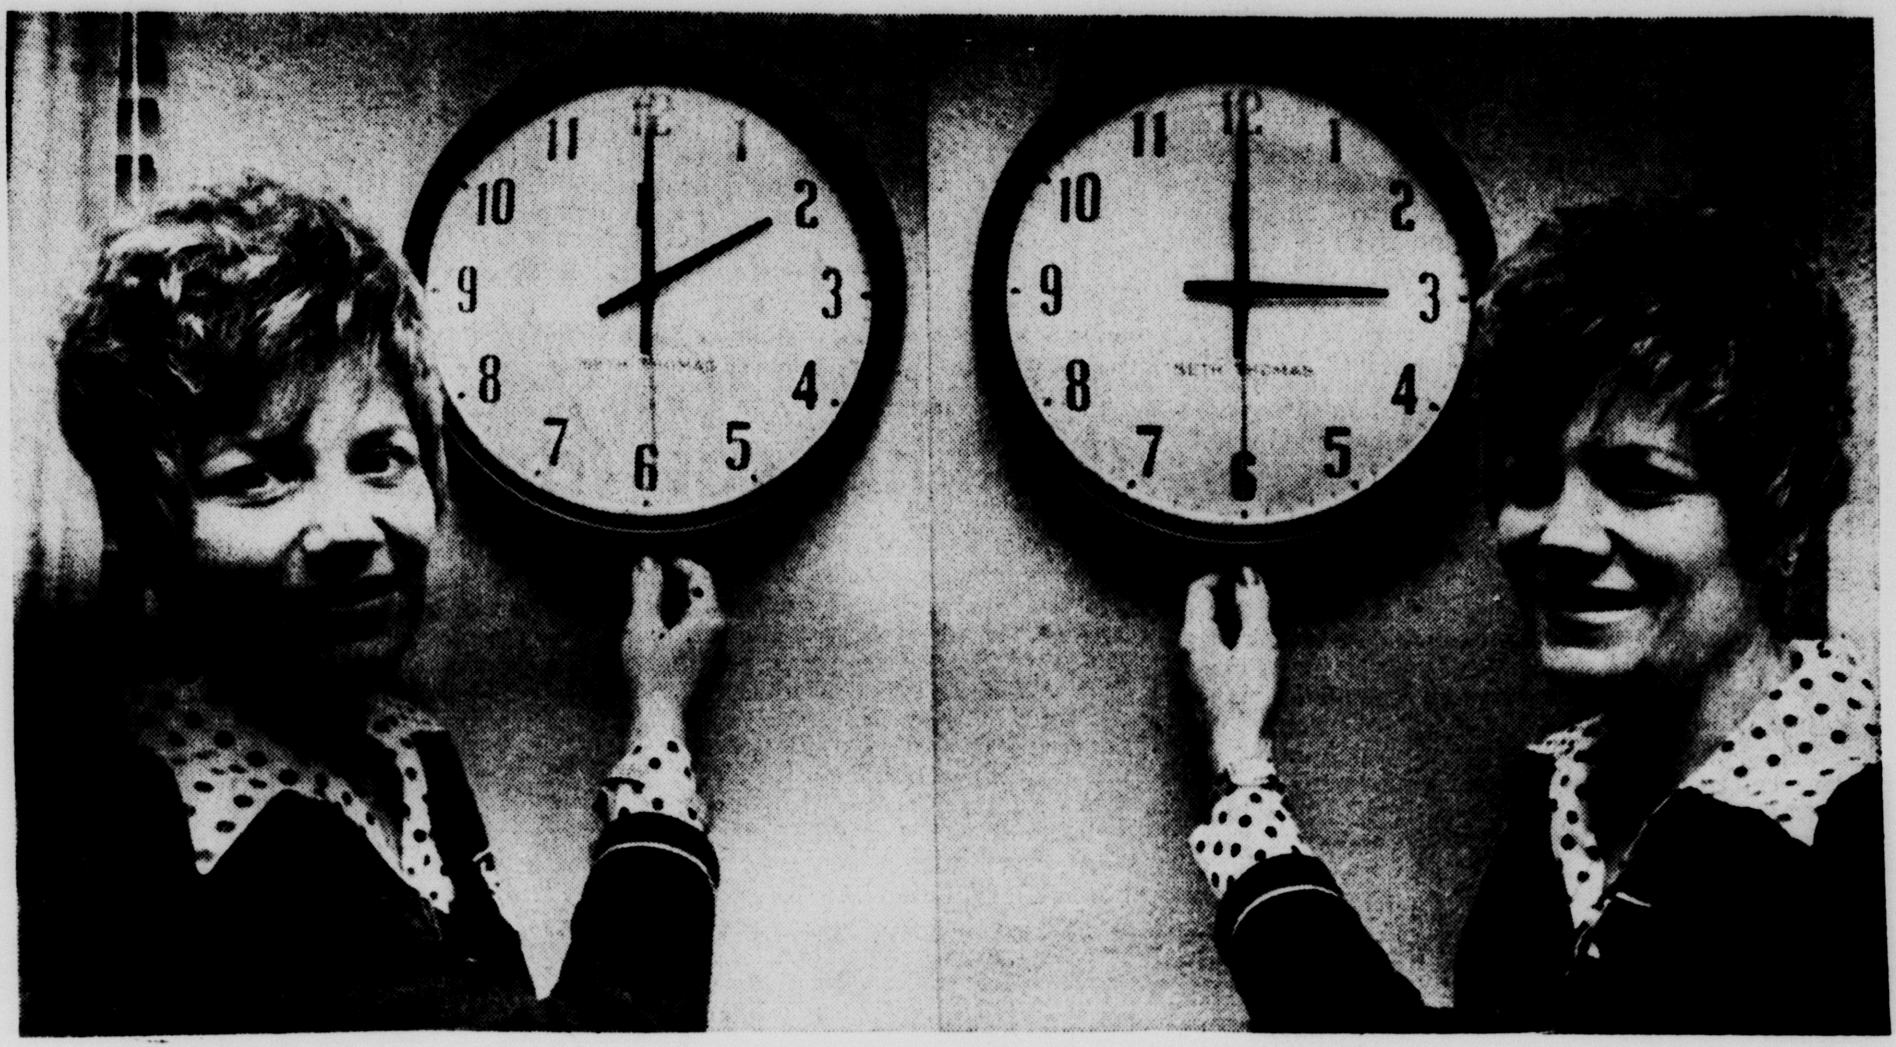
The trucker is Douglas A. Kornich, 27, who probably will be arraigned sometime next week in Pomona Municipal Court.

The accident killed Victor Macchioni, Jr., 24, of 693 N. Washington Ave., Pomona. Macchioni, a two truck driver, had gone to assist Alan G. Gray, 25-year-old Anaheim motorist whose car was disabled on the freeway near Sunset Crossing Road.

Gray suffered a broken leg, a shattered kneecap and mumerous other injuries. He was reported in fair condition today at Pomona Valley Community Hospital, but no longer requires intensive care.

Highway patrolmen, who filed the complaint against Kornich, said that as the truck-trailer swung towards Macchioni and Gray, Macchioni yelled a warning and shoved Gray aside before being crushed between the trailer and his own tow truck.

Macchioni was employed by A & A Towing of Pomona. He was married and had two children.



TIME FLIES

Wants to keep salary hikes at 7%, program intact

Austerity budget readied; school chief opposes it

David L. Brown, superintendent of Walnut Valley Unified School District will take a proposed austerity budget to district board members at their next meeting March 3.

Board members will use that material to decide whether they will set an election May 27 for a tax increase.

The election could add $1.05 to the district tax rate. Residents currently are paying a total district tax rate of $4.89.

Austerity isn't what Brown wants. He made that clear to the board Thursday night when he said $500,000 in additional funds is needed to carry on the school program.

He asked for minimal impact on the regular classroom teaching program, no layoff of teaching personnel, a minimal layoff of other certificated staff and of classified personnel, and a "reasonable" salary increase for imployes.

Later in the meeting he said he had a 7 per cent salary increase in mind.

Board member Frank Morales differed. He suggested no increases for anyone even though he said they were deserved, a possible cut for administrators and an immediate freeze of current budget funds wherever possible.

"It makes me a heck of an unpopular guy," he admitted.

Richard Vind, on the other hand, wanted a tax increase election for a minimum of two years.

He favored continuing a Walnut High School swimming pool project. The district already has approximately $145,000 in tax and government funds toward this facility. Some of this money could be lost if the project is eliminated.

The project was at the top of a list of cuts suggested by the district staff.

Next was reduction of administrative positions, the work year and the ratio of administrators to teachers.

Specifically, the list included elimination of two high school administrators, one principal per two elementary schools, elimination of the dean of girls at Suzanne Intermediate School, lowering the ratio of district administration to teacher positions, reducing the work year of the superintendent and assistant superintendents.

Board members were given reduction suggestions from students and parents to study along with those from the staff.

"It angers me that programs like the mentally gifted minor classes would have to be emasculated," Brown said.

The board had just seen a program presented by students from the program's honor classes.

Board members also approved participation in a truancy or "juvenile diversion" program which would permit police to pick up students observed on the streets during school hours.

Some other districts taking part in the truancy program allow the students to be taken to a holding center and counseled before they are returned to school. A resultant drop in vandalism and burglary is reported.

Walnut will have students brought directly back to school and do its own counseling.

Valley man is acquitted of charge he robbed market

West Valley Superior Court Judge James Cunningham has found a 37-year-old Pomona man innocent of a charge he robbed the Mayfair Market at Central Avenue and Benito Street in Montclair on Oct. 20, 1974.

Judge Cunningham acquitted the defendant, Frederick Dean Chandler of 305 N. Alvarado St., Pomona, Wednesday after a 2½-week court trial.

Chandler was arrested by Montclair police and charged with armed robbery two hours after the food store was robbed on Oct. 20. Police said that Chandler's pickup truck matched the description of the pickup used by the robber.

Chandler in testimony told the judge that just before the robbery occurred his pickup truck stalled a short distance from the market. He said he went to a local motel and left the truck on the road. Chandler said someone stole the truck and possibly used it in the robbery.

The prosecution produced two persons in the market who identified Chandler as the man they believed robbed the business.

City, school candidates

Candidates for mayor, City Council and school board in Pomona will speak next Wednesday in a public forum at the Pomona School District's Education Center.

The free 8 p.m. program is being sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Pomona and the Associated Pomona Teachers.

The same candidates will speak the next morning, Thursday, at 7:30 a.m. at Buffums, sponsored by the Pomona Chamber of Commerce. The breakfast program costs $2 per person.

Candidates in the March 4 election are:

For mayor — Ray Lepire (incumbent), Adrian Wright, Richard C. Brownell and Joseph A. Keenan.

For City Council — Georgia Grove (incumbent), running unopposed in the 1st District, and Charles Bader (incumbent) and John Tuttle in the 4th District.

For school board — C. Allen Braswell, Ron Foster, Joseph C. Hoover, John D. Kuiken, Mrs. Frances M. Livingston, and Gene Whitlock, all running for two seats on the board.

School pep leaders to vie at MSAC

More than 100 schools from Irwindale to Pomona are expected to participate in the seventh annual cheerleader and songleader competition of Mt. San Antonio Collge Saturday.

REED M. POWELL, dean of the School of Business Administration at Cal Poly, will speak tonight at a meeting of General Dynamics Pomona Chapter of the National Association. The meeting will be held at the Diamond Bar Country Club beginning with a cocktail hour at 6. Powell's subject will be "The Challenge to Management in the Decade Ahead."

Either that or see party die, Banowsky says

Plea made to get GOP to 'people'

Republicans lost heavily in November's state and national elections but they can rebound next year if they seek "grass-root" support and support the party's three basic principles.

So declared William Banowsky, president of Pepperdine University, member of the Republican National Committee and a possible candidate for the U.S. Senate.

He spoke Thursday night to 200 members of the 64th Assembly District Committee at a Lincoln Day dinner held at the Pomona National Country Club in Walnut.

Banowsky identified the three Republican principles as freedom at the individual level; fiscal responsibility at the national level; and national security at the international level.

Speaking on individual freedom, he declared the Republican Party holds as a basic tenet that the person does not exist for the state but the state exists for the person. "If you believe this principle is worn or outdated, then think about the tremendous uproar occasioned by these disclosures about the FBI, CIA and IRS."

Discussing fiscal responsibility, Banowsky said Republicans are the ones pleading for restrained government, limited federal spending and balanced budgets. "Americans are fed up with some of the ridiculous government spending programs. We can win elections big if we start coming out against these inflationary federal programs and these rip-offs of the public purse."

On national security, he reported the nation is spending less on defense—as a percentage of government spending — than at any time in the last 20 years. And the U.S. Navy is below 500 ships in the active fleet, a level lower than at any time since 1939.

Banowsky said the United States isn't spending much to keep ahead of the Soviet Union in research and development. "They outspent us by 20 per cent each year in researching new weapons, by 25 per cent in procurement and by 60 per cent in strategic nuclear offensive weapons.

"And if you think all you have to do to achieve detente is join the Communists for some vodka, then you've got another think coming. You ask the people in Czechoslovakia who were crushed in 1968. You ask some of the Soviet Jews who are trying desperately to leave their native land."

Banowsky said the challenge of the next election is to get the decision making out of the country clubs and closed meetings. "We must open the party up to the people. We will make this a party of the people. We have the capacity to appeal to the people. We must get back to the grass-roots.

"We are going to have to communicate these principles throughout America. The Republican party must open itself up. That doesn't mean we change our principles. It means we stop talking to ourselves."

Banowsky stressed the Republicans must "hold the White House" in 1976 and also win California's U.S. Senate seat, now held by Sen. John Tunney, a Democrat.

He said this is the time of opportunity for the Republican Party. "But unless we go to work, the Republican Party could be in a terminal condition. We are more than 100 years old. We came into being because the Whig Party withered. But unless we make some major come-backs in 1976, the party could be over."

Serving as program moderator was Assemblyman William Campbell R-64th Dist. Also attending was Michael Montgomery, vice chairman of the California State Central Committee.

Only Washington...

It has always been difficult not to become maudlin, to resort to cliches, when talking about George Washington.

"The father of his country." "First in war, first in peace, first in the hearts of his countrymen." Well-worn phrases like that.

As if by way of compensation, attempts are made from time to time to knock Washington off the distant, towering pedestal he occupies in American history and bring him down to our own size — or lower.

A few years ago, for example, someone made a humorous analysis of the painstaking detailed expense account Washington submitted to the Continental Congress after the Revolution. While it showed that the general enjoyed his glass of Madiera, it hardly proved he was anything but a scrupulously conscientious public servant.

Disparaging reference is sometimes made to the fact that Washington was a slaveowner, a member of the aristocratic class — ignoring the humanitarianism of the man, especially when viewed against the context of the times in which he lived — ignoring the very real risk he took in losing everything he had, including his life, in a cause far from universally supported by his fellow colonists.

Such attempts to belittle Washington merely prove the opposite of what they intend. When this man is compared with some of the modern world's revolutionary "heroes" he grows in stature all the more.

Washington never countenanced terrorism against the enemy. He never had a political or ideological opponent shot or imprisoned. He never sought power over anyone — indeed, shunned it. His legacy has been nothing but good.

Even with 200 years of hindsight to benefit them, historians can arrive at no estimate of Washington different from that of his contemporaries: Without him, there would have been no United States of America.

There is simply no other way of putting it.

As Americans approach the Bicentennial, as they restudy the Revolution and its aftermath, it is to be hoped that they will refresh their appreciation of this fact.

Only Washington kept the dream of independence alive in the dark days at the end of 1776, when at one point the Continental Army was reduced to a mere 800 men. Only Washington could have brought the long struggle to its successful conclusion.

Later, when the United States began its experiment under the Constitution, only Washington commanded the affection, respect and confidence needed by its first president to surmount the squabbling rivalries of the nascent political parties and see the infant nation well launched on its course of destiny.

Without George Washington; no United States. What more can possibly be said?

The food future

A lot of people are trying to do it, but it seems difficult to fault President Ford meaningfully for his forthright, Churchillian approach to the nation's condition today.

Unemployment will, he warned us frankly, rise to about 8 percent and stay there for several years. His billion-dollar-a-day budget will be out of balance by some $52 billion unless Congress approves his admittedly unpopular spending cuts.

The crisis in the steel and automobile industries is well known. So is the inflationary situation at the neighborhood market. Since the latter affects everyone, employed or unemployed, the magazine MONEY undertook a survey of the 1975 outlook for food prices. Some of its findings:

Fruit: Despite abundant crops in some areas the prediction is the familiar "up". Increased marketing prices, for one thing, tend to overcome a supply increase that normally would bring costs down.

Potatoes-rice: One area of good news. Potato prices will rise slightly but not greatly as last fall's record crop is gobbled up by potato-hungry buyers. Rice should stay cheaper.

Sugar: Out of this world.

Meat: While feed prices stay up, meat is apt to cost less because high feed prices force early sell-off of herds.

Vegetables: Up, because grains are now in a better income crop.

Fish: Lower prices holding because of vast quantities laid in during meat shortage.

Dairy products: Up more sharply than general food prices, if that is possible.

Bread-cereals: Little expectancy of reduction.

And so it goes. We aren't yet at a point of austerity, nationally, but neither does prosperity seem just around the corner. There is a great deal to be done, by government and by the private sector.

At least the President has been honest with us about what we face.

Thoughts for today

Now such persons we command and exhort in the Lord Jesus Christ to do their work in quietness and to earn their own living.—II Thess. 3:12.

Hall has cost taxpayers $73,000

Following the death of a Mt. Sac. Board member, Lance Smith, the position was filled by an appointment. Through the efforts of Mr. Charles Hall, a professional educator, a petition was filed with the board forcing an election to fill the vacancy. This election covered only a three month period with only two board meetings. The taxpayers paid approximately $55,000.00 to hold this election and to have Mr. Hall attend these two meetings.

At the first of these two meetings Mr. Hall abstained from voting on the only two important issues brought before the board. The first was teachers salaries. He abstained and the vote in the matter was 4 to 0. Mr. Hall stated that he had not had time to study the problem, although he was in constant contact with the teachers at Mt. Sac. for months and was endorsed and financed by those same teachers. The other issue involved the payment of the candidates qualifications placed on the ballot. The cost of which is approximately $1,000.00. The vote was 4 to 0 again with one abstention from Mr. Hall. Mr. Hall should have been well informed and have an opinion on this matter as he was the only one to place these qualifications in the ballot in the special election in January.

It was originally ruled, before the election, that the winner of the special election would NOT be listed as an incumbent and the ballots were so printed. Mr. Hall filed a court action and was successful in reversing this decision and the ballots were reprinted. The cost to the taxpayer was $18,000.00. The total now that Mr. Hall has cost the taxpayers is $73,000.00.

It would seem that a man interested enough to file a petition, file a court action and cost the taxpayers $73,000.00 just has to be informed enough to cast his vote. Could it be that he does not want the people of this district to see how he would vote? — Don Knowlton, Valinda.

JACK ANDERSON

The remaking of a senator

WASHINGTON — Sen. Mike Gravel, D.-Alaska, is a political huckster's dream — youthful, clean-cut good looks, a quick charismatic charm, the future of America in his face.

In 1968, one of the best political hucksters, Joe Napolitan, fashioned these ingredients into a United States senator. Gravel unseated gnarled 81-year-old Sen. Ernest Gruening, the father of Alaskan statehood — which was a little like Robert Redford defeating George Washington.

It was a classic, multimedia campaign. Gravel, talking about "the Alaska of tomorrow rather than the Alaska of yesterday," projected the image that a careful survey of the Alaskan electorate indicated.

"The fact that Sen. Gruening is 81 years old will definitely not be an issue in this campaign," proclaimed Gravel piously, thereby making it an issue. Yet he was careful not to appear too youthful; he produced a series of scholarly essays to give himself a mature touch.

The final polish to his image was provided in a film biography, "Man for Alaska," which Napolitan created, as he put it, to bathe the voters "in that nice warm glow."

But Gravel was a bit too slick, too flashy, to adjust to the back rooms of the Senate. He came across to his colleagues as a superficial senator, a political skyrocket, who shunned the work of the Senate but basked in its glamour.

He was attracted to the kleig lights like a moth to a flame. In one emotional scene over the Pentagon Papers, he broke down and wept before a barrage of television cameras. His absence record, meanwhile, was the worst of any healthy senator.

But now Mike Gavel, re-elected last year over a John Birch Society candidate, is determined to become a good senator. He sought the advice of nis aides and got back a blunt, confidential assessment from his executive assistant, Jerry Udell.

"As one of our friends recently said," wrote Udell, "Mike played at being a senator for six years; now it's time for him to BE a senator.

"Harsh as this evaluation may seem, I must substantially agree. This does not mean that your first term was without merit. . . . But to say that you are classified as a 'work horse' by your colleagues is far from the truth.

"The best way to change some of the existing attitudes held by many of your colleagues concerning your performance as a senator," Udell urged, "is through participation and attendance at committee meetings. . . .

"I continue to contend that you are one of the most misunderstood men in Washington. The publicity-getting issues in which you involve yourself and the manner in which you handled yourself did more to damage your image among government and press people than is imaginable. . . .

"Adopting the 'work horse' image can do more to rectify your flaky image than anything else. It will be observed by the 41 of your collleagues who serve with you on your three committees. Their change in attitude will not come in direct proportion to your efforts. It will be a long, slow process. . . ." Getting down to specifics, Udell advised the senator: "You must get in early. This bit of not going to committee meetings, cancelling all appointments on your calendar until 1:30, showing up at 1:45 and then working until 8:00 and 9:00 is ineffective. . . .

"On the average day, the work of the Senate is not done between 1:30-8:00 p.m. It's done between 9:00-10:00 a.m. when members prepare for committee meetings and 10:00-12:00 when the committees meet.

"On the point of cancelling appointments, no appointment should be cancelled unless the previous appointment runs too long. Also we must stop accepting invitations and then not showing up. . . .

"Along with the above, we must strive for a 100 per cent voting record. As you and I discussed before, you gave your opponent every major issue used against us — attendance, tone, taste and style."

Acknowledging that his boss had "politically matured," Udell urged him also to ease into the Senate's social life. "You needn't get on the social circuit seven nights a week but some of this wouldn't hurt," suggested Udell. "I think you should seriously consider one or two functions at your home with newly elected members of the Senate before they get the . . . 'miss' impression of you. We must remember, the Senate is a social system far more than it is 'the world's greatest deliberative body.'" It was Gravel's image that made him a Senator. Now at the beginning of his second term, the goal, in the language of the Udell memo, is "to reshape our image."

Footnote: Gravel told us fro Anchorage that while he agreed with much of the memorandum, it was basically the personal feelings of a young aide who had been with him only about a year. Thus Udell was in no position to give a judgment on all of Gravel's senatorial accomplishments. The senator, commenting on our earlier column about his lifestyle, vigorously denied he was living beyond his means, saying that he lives modestly compared to many Washingtonians. His investments are in real estate, he said, because that was his field before he came to the Senate.

A pretty cruddy way to legislate

When in a fit of partisan pique Congress tied a raise in the national debt ceiling to a block on President Ford's oil import taxes the kind of political spring and summer ahead became totally clear, if indeed it wasn't already.

The nation, everyone scurrying to meet bills knows, has serious economic problems demanding quick, incisive attention.

The President made it clear long ago that he opted for major tax cuts to spur the economy and a series of energy conservation measures to free up the drain of dollars being used to pay for foreign oil.

While nothing is unanimous in the world, virtually every would-be doctor of the U.S. economy was in favor of tax cuts.

Virtually everyone was in favor of spurring energy development and energy conservation to make the nation more self-reliant in this critical area.

The minute the President came forward with this multi-billion dollar tax cut plan and his energy proposals, however, the game began. Ford was giving too much in tax rebates to those who made $10,000 or more a year. The poor should get more, or the middle income types should get more — anything should be done but follow the Ford proposals was the cry.

So congressional Democrats have been throwing a new tax or energy proposal a day into the air to see if it will fly.

Congressman Al Ullman, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee now has proposed a variation on the Ford program which Ways and Means, he says, will have ready for floor action at an early date.

The forgotten entity in the whole game is the average guy trying to pay his bills and taxes and stay alive while the lawmakers scurry for a shot on the evening news or a place on the front page — preferably both.

Thus a real chance exists that the Congress is going to get something someday to the President's desk which will force a confrontation and bring about a veto. It is a pretty cruddy way to legislate at any time and particularly when a crisis is at hand which the voters might expect would bring out the best in those they elect.

Just in jest

If they can't whip us into line one way they're going to do it another. And since many of us failed to react "properly" after being threatened with the curtailment of educational facilities and the firing of teachers if we didn't vote for school taxes, the really big scare is now on.

If worst comes to worst, say those who are trying to make us see the error of our ways, it may even become necessary to do away with interscholastic sports and team competition. — Well, that ought to do it! Curtailment of a kid's education is one thing but forcing parents to go through life without being able to brag about what athletic super stars their youngsters are is unthinkable.

Soviets have edge in missile power

While the attention of most Americans is focused now on a record deficit federal budget, inflation and unemployment, we should be saying "pass the SALT" when it comes to the proposed Strategic Arms Limitation agreement announced in Vladivostok last fall by President Ford and Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev.

Embedded in this proposal are some inequalities so far as our defense is concerned that need a good deal more public review than they've received.

In 1972, SALT I concluded with the United States conceding that the USSR would continue to have more land-based missiles than we and could catch up or surpass us in the number of submarine-based missiles. Congress, worried that the agreement precluded development of effective antimissiles by either side, attached a rider to the agreement requiring that in the future equality of strength be maintained. President Nixon agreed and Gerald Ford — then Congressman Ford — voted for it.

The preliminary agreement announced by Mr. Ford and Chairman Brezhnev at Vladivostok covered all the major weapons systems: sea — and land-based missiles and long-range bombers. It set a ceiling of 2,400 vehicles for each side, 1,320 of which could have multiple warheads (MIRVs) independently targeted, thus making them much more destructive.

At first glance that seems equal. The agreement equalizes the number of missiles. It also freezes missile sizes to current dimensions, and that's where we should take a second look. The Soviets already have missiles much greater in size than ours.

Given the multiplier effect of the MIRVs, the Soviets will be able to deliver five to ten times as many hydrogen bombs as we can. The significance of this is mind-numbing. Secretary of Defense James Schlesinger has conceded this would give the USSR the ability to deliver a successful "first strike," knocking out our land-based missiles and bombers, leaving only our sea-based weapons to defend us. This is hardly equality.

Only an on-site inspection program (omitted from the agreement) would permit us to know for sure how many Soviet missiles had been MIRVed.

On the other hand, the public nature of our defense expenditures is such that the Soviets would have no trouble keeping score on us and making sure we stick to our part of the bargain. More "equality."

The proposed agreement reportedly says that either side may deploy as many "cruise missiles" as it likes, so long as their range doesn't exceed 600 miles, the limit of such missiles already in Soviet service. The United States has developed cruise missiles with a range of 1,000 miles. So, the Soviets could keep their current fleet and add as many more as they want while we would not be permitted to deploy our longer range missiles. This "equality" is beginning to look like Horse & Rabbit Stew — one horse to one rabbit.

Some say when this much destructive power is involved numbers don't really matter.

Why is it, then, that invariably these same people are the ones who are most anxious to limit numbers by means of SALT agreements? A balance in destructive power matters greatly, both factually and psychologically.

So far, we've been sitting "below the salt" at the bargaining table. It's time for the President to order his bargainers to insist on real equality. It's nice to come home from one of these meetings with a deal. It makes the negotiators feel good. But, we'd better realize there is a considerable difference between making a deal and being taken in by one.

Long vigil for G.I. Bill money ends--in grand style

My husband attends the evening division of Mt. San Antonio College, supposedly on the G.I. Bill.

He applied for the subsidy in September 1974 and was to receive $275 a month.

Then in November he began making inquiries which resulted in a number of tracers being sent.

Just before the holidays, he received a form from the Veterans Administration that was to be filled out and verified by the college and then returned.

He was told at that time he would probably have his money within the week. That was about three weeks ago.

Last week he registered again for the new semester, cutting his units nearly in half.

He was told then that the grant would amount to around $180.

He never has received any of this money. We certainly could use it. Is there a possibility you might help? —J.L., Diamond Bar.

Two weeks after we alerted the VA's regional director to the delinquency in your husband's benefits, a member of his staff telephoned us.

He told us that your husband would receive a $1,500 payment, the maximum allowed at one time under the circumstances, in about 10 days.

Since the government actually owed him a little more than that, a check for $12.50 would be forthcoming later on.

Beginning in March, he could expect his regular monthly benefits when they were due.

VA delivery exceeded its promises. Your husband got his check the day after we heard from the VA.

My problem concerns my order for three prints from NI-WO-DI-HI which has not been filled.

No response comes to my letters inquiring why.

Last October I cut an advertisement from a magazine. Following instructions in the ad, I wrote for information and color miniatures of prints by contemporary Indian artists.

Upon receiving them, I sent an order for "Osage Wedding Day" at a cost of $20, "Buffalo Hunt" at $20 and "War on the Plains" at $40 with a check for $79 enclosed.

Why I sent $79 instead of $80 I do not know.

In November I received the first two prints but not the third. I waited a week or so and then wrote to the corporation asking when I would receive the third print.

My answer came from Texas. It was a printed form card saying my order had been sent several weeks ago and asking me to let the company know if I hadn't received it.

I responded immediately to the Texas address. I received no response either to that letter or to another sent in December. —Mrs. C.B., Pomona.

After we wrote to NI-WO-DI-HI Corp. in Oklahoma about your failure to receive "War on the Plains," the peace pipe was extended to you from Texas.

Ted C. Pearsall of the corporation explained that the "War" print was too large to be sent flat through the mail and the United Parcel Service had not yet established service between that area and this because of a strike.

"War" was shipped by another service. Since you didn't receive it, a tracer has been issued. If you do receive it, you are asked to refuse shipment.

Pearsall mailed you another print. He apologized because it was rolled but said that was the only way of making sure you got it. The company didn't ask for the extra dollar.

ANN LANDERS

Woman who has lived the good life wants to donate parts of her body

Dear Ann Landers: I am 76, alone and have been blessed with good health and God's love and mercy. Last week I realized I should rewrite my will. Am I too old to give my body to whatever agency can make use of any part of it? How do I contact the appropriate people?

I have seen the beauty of the world, the kindness of people, the sweetness of innocent children and the adoration in the eyes of my beloved late husband. Can someone perhaps benefit from my eyes or parts of my body? Please advise me, Ann.—A Great Grandmother

Dear Grandmother—and you ARE great: Bless you for your good sense and eagerness to contribute to humanity. You need a Uniform Donor's Card and instructions. Please write to The National Kidney Foundation, 116 East 27th Street, New York, N.Y. 10016.

Eyes and kidneys are urgently needed. There are long waiting lists for both. Just think how wonderful it would be if you could give sight or added years to a stranger after you have departed this world! I urge all who wish to do so to make use of the address at once

Dear Ann Landers: A few years ago Ogden Nash wrote a poem about you. In that poem there was a very funny line about a fat girl. I clipped the poem but misplaced it. Will you please tell me what that line was before I wig out? Thanks, Doll.—Reader In White Plains

That "funny line" appeared in an Ogden Nash poem based on a letter in my column. A young woman had complained that her boy friend was unromantic. Nash quoted the gentleman's compliment to her: "You sweat less than any fat girl I know."

Thanks for asking me to repeat the line. Ogden Nash was one of my favorites.

Dear Ann Landers: When my husband announced, after six years of what I thought was a good marriage, that he was leaving me to enjoy the freedom he felt he had been denied, I was shocked and confused.

I blamed myself for having failed him. He assured me that such was not the case. He insists there is nobody else. I believe him. He wants to go off on his own and review some problems he has been unable to resolve. Of course I am heartbroken, but I decided it would be best to let him go.

I don't want a man who doesn't want to share my life. I have a good job and don't need his financial support. If he wants to send me money, fine If not, that's okay, too. I am praying he will come back, but if he doesn't I won't curl up and die. I will make another life for myself.

Several of my friends are so furious they refuse to speak to him. I think this is unfair. If I'M not mad, why should they be? The point of this letter is to say I wish my friends would stop pitying me and asking me how I can tolerate such abuse. I'm handling the problem in my own way and I'd appreciate it if they would leave me alone. Sign me—Making It

Dear M.I.: You owe no apologies and no explanations to anyone. When your friends offer sympathy or counsel, simply tell them to buzz off. You didn't ask—and you might tell ME to buzz of—but my hunch is that you're better off without the guy.

Do you feel awkward, self-conscious—lonely? Welcome to the club. There's help for you in Ann Lander's booklet, "The Key to Popularity." Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 1400, Elgin, Ill. 60120.

RATTLES & STRAWS

Saturday is Washington's Birthday

Tomorrow is George Washington's birthday, I don't care what Congress says. He was born in Wakefield, Va., Feb. 22, 1732, and I'm going to hang out the flag even if I get branded a communist.

Please don't bother me about the Julian and Gregorian calendars, either. Congress has me confused enough without you messing me up further with calendar years, leap years, lean years and fiscal years. Feb. 22 is Feb. 22 and that's that!.

Washington was a great man and we are all indebted to him. "First in war, first in peace, first in the hearts of his countrymen," said Light Horse Harry Lee. (When the Senators played baseball in Washington, D.C., wags were wont to recite, "First in war, first in peace, last in the American League.")

The name Washington was very popular. We have a state named that, a lake near Seattle, a mountain in New Hampshire, an island in the Pacific, a city in Pennsylvania and another in Georgia (Georgia Washington). Plus a dozen colleges and universities bearing that name.

How far this country, of which Washington was father, has progressed (or regressed) in manners and morals in the past 200 years is illustrated in Washington's copy book in which the serious 15-year-old Virginia aristocrat listed rules for "decent behavior in company and conversation." I have tried these rules on my own progeny and their laughter rattled the glasses on the table — and on my nose. I doubt if any of them will ever be President.

"In the Presence of Others," wrote young George, "Sing not to yourself with a humming Noise, nor Drum with your Fingers or feet." Eminently sound advice (no pun intended) which could be expanded today to include a variety of stereos, tape-records and transistor radios.

Another rule of behavior would put unbearable strain on the members of Congress. "Sleep not when others Speak." It would also tax the endurance of a million college students and church goers.

Don't knock down the boss in the doorway, or as the earnest young scribe put it, "When you meet with one of Greater Quality than yourself, Stop, and retire especially if it be at a Door or any Straight Place to give way for him to Pass." Wise sayings.

Like the venerable Polonius, Washington knew the value of good grooming but warned of foppishness: "Wear not your Cloths foul, unript or Dusty but see they be Brush'd once every day at least and take heed that you approach not to any uncleaness. Play not the Peacock, looking every where about you, to See if you be well Deck't, if your Shoes fit well, if your Stokings Sit neatly, and Cloths handsomely.

I'm with George. I will not Sing to myself with a humming Noise; I will try to stay awake while my wife is telling me what Lucy heard that Margaret said about the Davidsons; and I will step aside when I meet one of Greater Quality.

But most of all I will celebrate George Washington's birthday on George Washington's Birthday.

DOCTOR COMMENTS

New roughage diet needs adjusting

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have developed spastic colon problems. I have been to a doctor and have no organic disease. I have also had X rays which show spastic colon.

For several weeks the doctor kept me on a diet without any whole wheat bread or any food with roughage. This diet did not seem to help a whole lot.

After I read your column on this problem I went on the diet you suggested, after which I began having considerable pain in the lower left side. Is this pain normal after going on a whole wheat, I baked my own bread with whole wheat flour so I was sure to get whole wheat. I'm stumped as to what to eat.

DEAR READER — Some people do have the problem you describe when they start a diet that includes more cereal fiber. The discomfort is related to excess formation of gas. This lasts about three weeks and then disappears.

If you have too much trouble with it try to gradually increase the roughage in your diet. That will help some.

Cereal fiber is particularly good for bowel function since it is not absorbed and it does soak up moisture. Its bulk with the moisture it retains helps to increase the size of the stool and prevent it from becoming a hard dried out residue that is related to the spastic colon problem.

The spastic area is commonly on the left side. That is thought to be the reason the diverticula (pockets of the colon) develop on the left side too. They are related to spastic colon and poor bowel habits.

Switching from white flour to whole wheat flour and products containing whole cereal, particularly whole wheat products, often corrects bowel problems. The whole program is a bit more involved. For people who have this condition I recommend a bowl training program with the increased roughage. You can get the details of this program by writing to me at P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019 and asking for the booklet on spastic colon. Enclose 50 cents and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope.

It is important to realize that excess gas can be a problem for the first three weeks. But, if you can tolerate it, this condition will gradually disappear. While increasing the bulk in your diet, it is a good time to start cutting down on foods that contain little or no bulk. That means sugars, sweets, and refined flours used in white bread and desserts.

A good source of cereal bran is plain, unprocessed miller's bran. A ready source is ALL-BRAN. You can use this as a breakfast cereal. The more you use to begin with the more likely you will have gas problems. So don't go overboard at the beginning, but start perhaps first by just changing from white flour to whole wheat flour products. Then after a week start using a small bowl of ALL-BRAN for breakfast.

Incidentally, rice does not contain any significant amount of fiber and you won't get much benefit from it. Otherwise most of the unrefined cereals such as the brans and shredded wheat are useful to provide roughage.

There is some evidence that the fiber may also help prevent absorption of choesterol problems. People are beginning to discover cereals again and it is good thing for our health.

Job market always unpredictable

Detroit for years was a fairly easy place to get a job, what with all the carmakers there. And finding work in Appalachia for years was pritnear impossible for many, I'm told. Now the unemployment lines in Detroit stretch long. And last year's Arab oil embargo kicked the price of coal so high that any high school graduate willing to go into the mines can start at $6 an hour. You just can't predict the job market in any given region, can you?

A. About half of them.

AM NOW ABLE to report what sort of college student worries the most. It's the psych major. Second on the list of worriers is in home economics. Third, in business. Fourth, education. And fifth, engineering. Or such be the findings in a study of 1,600 upperclassmen. The scholar who undertook this research is worried, too. That most of the upcoming psychologists will be chronic handwringers.

YOU KNOW those little electronic pocket calculators? Some experts say the lighted members should glow green, not red. For easier reading. And they're working toward that end.

FOR THE BLIND

The publishers of Braille books for blind children are including in some of their volumes slips of special paper impregnated with various scents. These take the place of illustrations. The reader can scratch that paper to release a fragrance keyed to the story. Odor of pine arises from a forest scene. Wood smoke accompanies a campfire description. When mention is made of the purchase of a new car, up jumps banana oil. Excellent.

THAT SOME humpback whales sing is common knowledge. Less widely known is the fact that they sing in accents which indicate where they're from. There's a Bahamas accent, a Puerto Rico accent, a Virgin Island accent. Or such be the contention of a University of Rhode Island oceanographer. Claim is those whales sing to one another from as far as 20 miles apart.

For Saturday, Feb. 22

ARIES (March 21-April 19) An outside influence has shaken things up domestically. It will still have some effect today, but its power is diminishing.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your going to run into someone whose opinion is contrary to your's but equally strong. Handle this person tactfully.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't be bashful about seeking an adjustment for something that seems overpriced. Grind out a better deal.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You and your mate will not see eye-to-eye on the way to handle things. Each must yield a bit if peace is to be maintained.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You'll be inconvenienced because of another's problems. You will put yourself out because this individual has done the same for you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) There an unresolved issue with an old friend. It has been smoldering too long. It could be patched up now, if you try.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Resign yourself to see things through to completion today. You will come out the victor, if you're determined enough.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Someone will anger you today. You'll be tempted to give him a piece of your mind. Your better judgment will prevail. You won't.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Someone in your family is spending too much money. Better revise the budget. Be sure all stick to it faithfully.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. -9) The actions of your mate or partner will bug you—mostly because you don't appreciate his point of view. Once you do, harmony returns.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) The work load you have to contend with today will be very trying. Keep your mind on the rewards. It won't seem so heavy.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) A friend you seldom seem at ease with will cross your path. This time her persence will prove enjoyable.

Your Birthday Feb. 22, 1975.

An old friend important to you in the past will reenter your life this year. This person will bring some fortunate circumstances you'll both share in.

UP IT GOES — While construction workers swing on guy wire on ground, a Sikorsky S-61 helicopter holds 115-foot aluminum transmission tower upright so it may be put into place at Montpelier, Idaho. The transmission lines will be part of Jim Bridger plant being built by Idaho Power and Pacific Power and Light which will supply energy to western customers. The plant will generate some 1.5 million kilowatts of power and run along a 238-mile corridor over three transmission lines.

Students turning on to alcohol

NEW YORK (UPI) — The number of students in New York City schools turning on to alcohol is increasing and the age at which they begin drinking is dropping, according to a recent survey.

A survey of some 8,400 New York City high school juniors and seniors showed that almost one in 10 has a drinking problem. The survey, conducted by the Hunter College School of Health Sciences, was conducted last June at 91 high schools. The results were released Wednesday.

The poll found that 80 per cent of the males and 75 per cent of the female students drink beer, wine or liquor, but that the "vast majority" do so only on special occasions and in limited amounts.

Of those who drink at some time, the survey found, "about 12 per cent report a pattern of drinking frequency, amounts and effects such as to indicate they are potential or already alcoholics."

This would amount to just under 10 per cent of the entire group surveyed.

"There's a hard nut of problem drinkers and the age of starting is going down," said Gilbert Shimmel, a co-director of the study.

Shimmel noted that the younger a student, the more likely he is to have started drinking before the seventh grade.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Albert Schweitzer's 100th birthday anniversary is Jan. 14, 1975. He received the 1952 Nobel Peace Prize for his efforts toward "the Brotherhood of Nations." His "Philosophy of Civilization" (1923) stated his "reverence for life" philosophy, an ethical concept of respect for all living things which Schweitzer believed essential to the survival of civilization, The World Almanac notes.

Norway to mark 1st emigration

OSLO (UPI) — Special observances are being planned by Norway in 1975 to celebrate the 150th anniversary of Norwegian immigration to the United States. According to the Norwegian National Tourist Office, the first 52 immigrants left Stavanger aboard the sloop Restauration on July 4, 1825. It said that when the ship arrived in New York on Oct. 9, there were 53 passengers.

Prime time viewing

End of TV violence, sex sought

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government moved Thursday to bar obscene and indecent material from television, and announced a network promise to limit violent and sex-oriented scenes during prime time hours when children may be watching.

The Federal Communications Commission said it would ask Congress for legislation making it a crime to show "indecent material" on television.

At the same time, it said the three major television networks have agreed to limit prime time exposure of sexually oriented material in the 1975 television season.

Current laws make it illegal for radio stations to broadcast indecent material, but the FCC said in a report to Congress that such laws are vague about television.

"For this reasons, we will include in our legislative proposals for action by this Congress an amendment ... which would eliminate this uncertainty," the report said.

The report made clear the commission feels programs involving violence and sexual material —which might not be obscene or indecent but might be inappropriate for children — should be regulated by the television industry itself and not by law.

The FCC said ABC, CBS and NBC have tentatively set these guidelines for the 1975 season:

—Prime time viewing hours between 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. EST would be set aside mainly for "family viewing" six days a week. On Sunday, the hours would be 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

—"Viewer advisories" would be broadcast visually and audibly from time to time in advance of any shows during prime time which might be considered questionable for children.

—Networks will attempt to let publishers of television programming know in advance of questionable material to be broadcast during "family viewing" periods.

The FCC said it received increasing complaints of violence on television during the past three years.

"In 1972, the commission received over 2,000 complaints about violent or sexually oriented programs," the report said. "In 1974, the volume increased to nearly 25,000."

Critics of the current "indecent material" law say it is too vague and does not clearly set out criteria for acceptable programming.

The commission said it is confident of the television industry's desire to keep questionable as well as clearly indecent material off the air.

Sound might replace radiation in fight against cancer cells

HOUSTON (UP) — Two doctors using high intensity ultrasound to kill malignant mole cancer cells in the laboratory believe it may someday replace radiation in treating that particular form of cancer.

Radiation destroys both cancer and good cells. Sound affects only pigmented cells of moles.

Dr. Peter M. Corry and Dr. John McGinness of the University of Texas M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor nstitute have not tried the experiment on humans or higher primate animals, but think the process will be successful because of its selectiveness.

Corry said cells of cancerous moles, or melanoma, have the pigment melanin which acts as a semiconductor of sound. Cells without the pigment do not conduct the sounds except at extremely high frequencies and intensities.

A drug called chlorpromazine which is widely used in treating mental illness, attaches itself to the pigmented cells and makes the sound even more effective, Corry said, by enhancing the semiconductor properties.

"The idea is to attack the tumor without hurting regular tissue," he said in an interview. "We found that cells that contain the pigment can be killed preferentially, especially with a combination of drugs and sound."

Melanoma, often called "black mole cancer," is a fairly rare cancer which almost always affects whites only. Corry said its incidence comprises a few per cent of all cancers, and often begins in skin cells but spreads to vital organs.

Most cancers do not have pigmented cells and therefore would not be affected by the sound.

The scientists have used frequencies of 10 kilohertz, which is audible to the human ear, and 1 megahertz, which is far above human hearing ranges.

Using cultures taken from cancer patients at M.D. Anderson, the doctors have successfuly killed the cells by transmitting the sound though water. Kill rates improved drastically with the combination of the drug.

Garey shows its No. 1 rating is for real

Vikings rip Ganesha, 104-69

By KEVIN CLOE
P-B Staff Writer

Garey High convinced a lot of people Thursday night that its No. 1 ranking in the CIF 3-A basketball poll is no fluke.

They'll convince a lot more Saturday afternoon.

The Vikings, obviously not suffering from stage fright, went out and performed one of their greatest shows of the year in front of 1,700 screaming fans and a television crew from KNBC-TV.

They made sure nobody would question their status in the San Antonio League and in the rankings when they whipped cross-town rival and sixth-ranked Ganesha High, 104-69.

The victory clinched the SAL championship for the Vikings, and also gave them a perfect 14-0 record in league competition. But more important, the triumph showed just how strong the 1974-75 SAL champs really are.

Bryant Gumbel and Boyd Matson called the play-by-play for KNBC and were impressed with the speed of both teams. The game, however, was only taped Thursday night and will be aired Saturday at noon on Channel 4.

Garey High head coach Mike Wells was also very satisfied with the outcome.

"We played well," he grinned. "We had a lot of turnovers (23) and a lot of fouls (21), but that had to be expected in a game like this. I was especially pleased with the play of our reserves."

The Garey reserves, not the usually dominating big men, did a lot of the damage Thursday night.

The two reserves who really stood out were guard Kent Jordan and forward Victor Newton, both forced into action when starting forward Delbert McDonald and center David Larry got into foul trouble early.

Jordan, whose long-range bombs brought down the house at Garey, ended up with 15 points. Newton, who surpassed Kent's performance for "bombing" in shots from distances unheard of, finished the game with 10 points after going five-for-five from the field.

Both of them were also very impressive with their hustling play, which accounted for the fast and furious pace throughout the 32 minutes of action.

"Kent and Vic did outstanding jobs," Wells reiterated. "And Sonny (Baldez) did an incredible job on the boards tonight."

That was the amazing thing about the Garey victory. The guys who stood in the shadow of McDonald, forward Gary Carpenter and guard Billy Evans all year were the guiding forces when their help was really needed.

Baldez played one of his better games of the year when he not only hauled down nine rebounds (eight in the second quarter), but also led the team with 20 points (9 of 12 from the field).

Then there was Larry, the 6-foot-6 jumping jack for the Vikings. David, in the limited time he saw action after getting himself in foul trouble, was devastating on the boards.

He cleaned the glass backboards five times within just a couple of minutes in the first quarter, and eventually finished with 10 caroms. When he played he was just awesome.

Carpenter and Evans, however, didn't stand back and watch the other guys do all the work. For that matter, neither did McDonald.

UP IN ARMS

Ganesha High's Frank Steger rejects a shot by Garey's Kent Jordan (35) while Giant Paul Whitmore (42) tries to get into the act during Thursday night's televised confrontation between the Vikings and Giants. Garey won, 104-69.

Cameras add to excitement

By GRAHAM CROW
P-B Correspondent

The incredible, magnetic power of television never ceases to amaze.

This thought was verified Thursday afternoon when KNBC rolled into town to videotape, later that evening, the basketball game between Garey High and Ganesha.

The game between the two local powerhouses was a key one, no doubt about it. You had Garey — number one ranked in the CIF 3-A ranks and looking for its 19th straight win — against Ganesha — the sixth highest rated team in the division.

Throw in the San Antonio League championship hanging on the outcome; a revenge outing for Ganesha; the host Vikings trying to top the century mark for the third straight time; and you have a recipe for a great game.

But it still didn't appeal to the gourmets seemingly, until a dash of good old fashion VHF was added.

The awesome Vikings rolled past the shorter Giants by the score of 104-69. Yet this wasn't the most interesting thing to come out of the game.

To realize what set this game apart from any other foot-stompin', hand-clappin', throat-wreckin' title tussle, let's see how two cameras (simply named Number One and Number Two) affect people.

First there was Mike Wells, coach of the Vikings. If you have trouble adjusting your color sets Saturday at noon when the show will be aired, tune in on Wells' coat.

The NBC peacock will undoubtedly look pale in comparison with his green outfit. Always the sartorial perfectionist, Wells looked like a dime popsicle with two sticks.

Cameras One and Two also affected several individual players. They seemingly took the concept of team basketball away from Donald Barnes and Paul Whitmore early in the game.

These two fine players for Ganesha looked as if they had been programmed with the instructions, "When you get past midcourt — shoot!" The same person who devised that program must have also made one up for Garey's David Larry which said, "After ball is shot, take care of rebound and anyone who happens to get within 15 feet of you."

Our friends the cameras also brought out the very best in Sonny Baldez and Vic Newton. Sonny with a game high of 20 was never any better, shooting or rebounding, while Victor's long range bombs and flying defensive leaps were things of beauty.

Yet the most amazing effect produced by the four letter word KNBC, was on the local community itself.

Remember last week when it was threatened that high school sports would be discontinued because of a lack of revenue and support? You wouldn't have guessed it Thursday night.

The crew showed up around 3:15 in the afternoon to start setting up. At 4:30, there were lines doubled-up, waiting for tickets and when the doors finally opened at 6 o'clock, it took about 30 minutes to cram some 1,500 people into Garey's Gym.

If you were one of the 300 or so who were turned away because you only arrived an hour ahead of tip-off time, the show will definitely be worth your time on Saturday afternoon.

Bryant Gumbel and Boyd Matson supply the commentary in excellent fashion. Gumbel will inform you that Larry can "intimidate me whenever."

But excluding the first few minutes, and the wild ending with interviews and mob scenes, you'll see a lot of people enjoying some excellent high school basketball — not the TV cameras.

Trevino spoiling two-man party

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Happy-go-lucky Lee Trevino would like the golfing public to know there's more to the pro tour than Johnny Miller and Jack Nicklaus.

While Nicklaus shot a 69 and Miller carded a 72 Thursday, the 35-year-old from El Paso, Tex., showed why he's won $200,000 in each of the past four seasons.

Trevino, who missed making the cut in the Hawaiian Open three weeks ago, fired a flossy 66, five under par on the demanding Riviera Country Club layout, for a one-shot first-round lead in the $150,000 Glen Campbell Los Angeles Open.

One of eight pros who have made $1 million on the tour, the two-time U.S. Open champion downplayed the much-publicized Miller-Nicklaus confrontation of 1975.

"You're the ones who are building it up," he told reporters. "I don't have anything to do with it. But so many players on the tour are capable of winning. Really, there are a lot of guys to beat out here."

Until Thursday, Trevino had been playing like a man who lost his game during the winter. In the Phoenix and Tucson Opens in January, he made the cut but that was about all. He came out of Arizona with a paltry $3,598.

Although he's never won in California and didn't plan to be at Riviera, he changed his mind last week and entered the $150,000 tournament.

"The problem with this game," Trevino said, "is that everybody worries about everybody else. I got a phone call from a golf ball company guy the other day and he wanted to know if I'd retired. Another guy came up to me and asked me what was wrong. I told him I had a lot of money, I had my health and I was still good looking."

Of Miller, who has won three events and $110,795 already this year, the smiling hombre from Texas offered, "It's a matter of confidence in his putting and short game. He's got a world of confidence in himself now."

Trevino, who admitted he was "surprised more than anybody" at his 34-32 round in which he hit 17 greens, used a borrowed Cesar Sanudo putter and sank birdie putts of 20, 15, 12, 12, eight and two feet. He would have had a 65 except for a bogey on his finishing hole, the par four, 407-yard ninth.

"I drove into a bunker on the left and then I missed a six-foot putt," he said.

Tom Weiskopf, who didn't win a tournament last year after capturing four in 1973, shot a 67 as did Tom Watson, Bob Unger and Ed Sneed.

"This is the best round I've played for a long time," said Weiskopf, who has missed the cut in three of five starts this season.

There was a seven-player logjam at 68m including defending champion Dave Stockton and 62-year-old Sam Snead. Also at three under after one round on the 7,028-yard course were former U.S. Amateur champion Craig Stadler, little Buddy Allin, Dale Douglass, Mark Hayes and Bill Rogers.

"I'm just not playing well," said Nicklaus, who eagled the first hole, a par five, 505-yarder with a drive, four iron and five-foot putt. "Practice-wise, I'm ahead of last year but competition-wise I'm behind."

Said Miller, who is meeting Nicklaus head-to-head for only the second time this year:

"I'm just tired. My mind is trying to play like in the first round of a boxing match and my body is like in the 10th round. I'm also not as strong as I normally am."

Elks Lodge dedicates tournament to Pomona

By BILL LANGLEY
P-B Sports Editor

The Pomona Elks Lodge 789 broke tradition Thursday night.

For years, the lodge has dedicated the annual Pomona High School Baseball Tournament in honor of an individual in the community who has made contributions to youth baseball.

However, this year's 40th annual tournament is being dedicated to an entire city as Pomona and its residents are being honored on its centennial year.

The Elks Lodge annually co-sponsors the Easter Week tournament with Pomona High. This year's 32-team varsity classic will be on March 24-26.

In making the dedication at Thursday's kickoff banquet at the Elks Lodge, Ray Wentworth of the lodge said, "We are dedicating this year's tournament to the City of Pomona for the many ways it has contributed to the youth of the community. For example, the city's latest gift to the youth was the recent lighting of Ralph Welch Park."

Stockton, who won the Los Angeles Open with a 72-hole total of 276 a year ago, said he expected the scoring to be better this year.

"This is the best shape I've ever seen Riviera in," said Stockton, of Westlake Village, Calif., and a former Southern California standout. "I definitely think the scores will be better than last year."

Mayor Ray Lepire accepted the plaque for the city.

"I'm very pleased to receive this," he told the coaches and baseball fans at the dinner. "This plaque will be displayed in the Pomona Public Library for all the citizens to view. The annual tournament has been a vehicle for good, clean competition and entertainment for 40,000 players and 60,000 spectators in its 40 years of existence.

Andretti's Road Show stops at Ontario track

The Mario Andretti Road Show stops this weekend at Ontario Motor Speedway and for an unscheduled performance — what a cast!

Andretti is the reason for — and — the feature of this weekend's special practice and qualifying session which officially opens the sixth annual California 500 at Ontario. But most of the major names entered in the $300,000 race will be on hand to keep him company.

The Cal 500 wasn't supposed to begin until Tuesday but conflicts in Andretti's schedule caused some rearranging of pages on the international racing calendar.

Auto racing fans looking for a preview of 1975 championship car racing, benefit the most from the date changes. Both Saturday and Sunday sessions are open to the public.

Andretti, the 34-year-old three-time U.S. Auto Club driving champion, asked for the special weekend session because he will be on the other side of the globe competing in the South African Grand Prix when regular Cal 500 qualifying takes place March 1-2.

"I'll probably have to start further back in the pack for the race this way," Andretti declared, "but I can't afford to miss a Grand Prix, either."

Andretti is making his first full-season assault on the world driving championship in a Parnelli Formula One car.

He'll drive a Viceroy Parnelli Offy in the Cal 500 as he joins Al Unser and Parnelli Jones for a fourth consecutive season on the "Super Team."

Unser, a two-time Indy 500 winner, will also be driving at Ontario this weekend along with his brother Bobby, Johnny Rutherford, Bobby Allison, A.J. Foyt, Tom Sneva and others.

Only Andretti, however, will register two official laps on the clocks to set his qualifying time. Although qualifying this weekend is open to any other driver wanting to try it, none will be expected to.

Any driver qualifying ahead of time is not eligible for the pole position regardless of how fast he might go. However, a spot in the second or third position is possible.

Practice will continue next week from Tuesday through Friday. Official time trials will follow on Saturday, March 1, with the two 100-mile qualifying races set for March 2.

The final starting order will be determined by finishing positions in the Twin 100s (with the exception of the front row) and 33 cars will start the March 9 race.

This weekend's special sessions, sponsored by the J.C. Penney Co., will run from noon to 4 p.m. both days. Andretti can qualify during Sunday's session.

Admission is $2 per person each day with parking free.

Good friends match wits at Poly

By BILL LANGLEY
P-B Sports Editor

This is one night when Cal Poly basketball coach Don Hogan can't afford to be too friendly.

Hogan considers Pete Cassidy, the Cal State Northridge coach, as one of his best friends. They always enjoy getting together and have the best of times joking with each other.

But Hogan and Cassidy must meet again on the court here tonight when Poly hosts Northridge in an 8 p.m. tipoff at Kellogg Gym in another of an endless series of big games in the California Collegiate Athletic Association. First place is again on the line this weekend in the CCAA.

Northridge (3-3) plays Poly (3-2) here tonight then closes its season at UC Riverside (3-2) Saturday night. Meanwhile, Cal State Bakersfield (2-3) is playing at Cal Poly San Luis Obispo (2-3) tonight with the loser eliminated from the race unless it ends a five-way tie, which is possible considering the records.

Poly needs to take advantage of its home court advantage tonight. A loss would put the Broncos against the wall for next weekend's northern trip to SLO and Bakersfield.

Northridge knows it must win both games this weekend to grab a share of the title. A defeat against either Poly or UCR would knock the Matadors from the chase.

"We have to win this one," Hogan said in referring to tonight's battle against his buddy's club. "I know our team will be emotionally ready. The home court has proven to be a big advantage in our league. We just hope that trend continues. Northridge is very hot right now. We have to turn it around real quick or we can write off any league title or playoff hopes."

Poly is 3-0 at home in CCAA play but 0-2 on the road.

The Broncos are also riding a three-game losing streak streak—all on the road—to drop the season record to 11-9.

Northridge comes here with the poorest overall record in the CCAA (12-13) but the Matadors have played well lately in sweeping past SLO and Bakersfield at home last weekend.

The Matadors also own an 80-71 decision over Poly at Northridge earlier this season.

"I think we're playing very, very well lately and have been for the last 10 games," Cassidy said. "Yes, I hope to spoil Hogan's home record in conference play."

Northridge is led by forward Jack Dyck (6-4) and center Craig Nance (6-6). Dyck is the Matadors' top scorer with a 16.5 average while Nance is mainly known for his rebounding defensive skills. Her drew the assignment on holding Poly's Paul Newton, who is averaging 14.5, to six points in the first meeting.

Poly guard Joe Sills continues to pace the CCAA in scoring with an 18.1 average while Newton is tops in rebounding with 10.5 per game.

They will be joined in the Broncs' starting lineup by forward Denny Weisse, center Aaron Hopwood and either Tom Isaps or David Kennedy at the other guard spot. Regular guard Dick Gross, who missed Monday's Chapman game because of a twisted ankle, will suit up tonight but won't start.

"We need to improve our rebounding and start to out-muscle opponents to break out of our current slump," Hogan said.

Poly will stay home Saturday night to entertain major college foe Cal State Los Angeles in the final game of the season at Kellogg Gym.

The Diablos bring a 10-12 record into tonight's home game against Biola and need to win their final four games to enjoy a winning season.

Coach Bob Miller's club will be looking for revenge since Poly took a 59-58 win at Diablo Den as Weisse made a last-second basket.

Center Tommie Lipsey (6-8) and forward Billy Mallory (6-5) are CSLA's top scorers with respective 20.6 and 15.8 averages.

Benefit cage contest will help Armstrong

Several of the area's top basketball players will be involved in a special game Saturday night for the benefit of Larry Armstrong, a Palomares Junior High teacher and coach who has been ill.

Armstrong formerly played basketball for Arizona State and the semipro General Dynamics team.

David Jones, who was a teammate of Armstrong's at General Dynamics, is arranging the benefit game with Jim Scarpinato, a former Mt. San Antonio College player.

The game will be played at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Garey High gymnasium. Tickets will be sold at the door for $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12.

Jones said the game will be played by professional rules with four 12-minute quarters.

Art "Hambone" Williams, a former Cal Poly player who was with the Boston Celtics last year, will head the list of players.

Others include Jones, who played locally at MSAC, Poly and La Verne College, plus Paul Scranton of Poly, Louis Smith of Poly, Jim Lyons of Weber State, Gary Larson of Azusa Pacific, Larry Van Zant of Azusa Pacific, Leroy Williams of Poly, Conway Smith of Howard, Bob Soto of MSAC, Sterling Forbes of Pepperdine, Bobby Blue of Pepperdine, Bobby Sims of Pepperdine, Simon Tolbert of Cal Poly, Willie Nelson of Whittier, Tom James of MSAC, Chuck Hinchman of the Air Force, Gary Prestesater of Azusa Pacific, Joe Ware of La Verne, John Rambo of Long Beach State, Curtis Donaldson of Cal Poly and Ed Taylor, the Pomona High Coach.

Lovell scores easy victory

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Making his first start in five months, Argentina's Pedro Lovell pounded out a 10-round unanimous decision over Charley James of Los Angeles in a heavyweight fight at the Olympic Auditorium Thursday night.

Lovell, 208½, and James, 183, fought to a draw Sept. 27, 1971, at San Jose, Calif.

Improving his record to 15-1-1, Lovell won 7-0, 5-3 and 5-3 on the three officials' scorecards.

The gross gate was $16,270.

Downtrodden Lakers greet Golden State

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — The Los Angeles Lakers, who lost all three games on a road trip this week, return home tonight to host the Golden State Warriors, leaders of the Pacific Division.

Los Angeles, which dropped a 115-92 decision at Kansas City Wednesday night, is in last place in the division, 12 games behind the Warriors and 6½ games behind the second-place Seattle Supersonics.

The Lakers have lost six of their last seven and are now 21-36 on the year. Los Angeles was 31-30 at this point last season and went on to win the division title away from the Warriors in the last two weeks of play.

Laker assistant coach John Barnhill, subbing for Bill Sharman on the road trip while Sharman was testifying in the Utah Stars' lawsuit against the Lakers, was angered at the Lakers' defensive play during the trip.

"Some guys just don't have a desire to go out and play defense," Barnhill said. "Everyone around the league must know we're not a good defensive team."

The Lakers are at home for a four-game stand. They meet the Boston Celtics at the forum on Sunday, Portland on Wednesday and Cleveland next Friday night.

Pistol Pete puts on show in Jazz' win

By United Press International

Pete Maravich has had his troubles this season but there are times when he can dominate a basketball game as few other players can.

Maravich demonstrated that Thursday night when he scored 32 points and the New Orleans Jazz set a club single quarter scoring record with 40 points in the second period to down the Portland Trail Blazers 114-102.

Bill Walton, the Blazers' outstanding rookie, was sidelined because of an ankle injury.

The Jazz trailed 23-19 after the first period but went ahead with 2:05 left in the second period on Nate Williams' jump shot. The Jazz stretched its lead to 59-53 by intermission.

The Cleveland Cavaliers defeated the Washington Bullets 106-95 and the Golden State Warriors downed the Atlanta Hawks 108-102 in other National Basketball Association games.

Cavaliers 106, Bullets 95

Jimmy Cleamons scored 17 points and the Cavs hit on 46-of 87 shots. The Cavs outscored the Bullets 16-2 in the second period to establish a lead they never lost. Phil Chenier led the Bullets with 29 points.

Warriors 108, Hawks 102

Phil Smith scored 26 points, including five in the last 1:35, to help the Warriors top the Hawks. The victory increased the Warriors' Pacific Division lead to six games over Seattle.

Las Vegas wraps up WCAC title

Bruins roll but Trojans lose again

By United Press International

Southern California, which finally felt this was its year in the Pacific Eight basketball race, saw its hopes all but smashed Thursday night.

The 10th-ranked Trojans, who hoped to end UCLA's eight-year conference domination this season, fell 89-88 to Washington. The loss left USC with a 5-5 Pac-8 record and killed the Trojans' chances of catching UCLA.

The No. 2 ranked Bruins kept up their league-leading pace with a 69-61 victory over Washington State.

Clarence Ramsey had a career-high 30 points to spark the Huskies past USC. Ramsey, a 6-foot-4 guard, hit two fouls shots to give Washington an 88-84 lead with 28 seconds left. After teammate Larry Jackson added another foul shot, Trojan guard Gus Williams, who had 34 points, hit two quick baskets but time ran out on USC.

UCLA moved a step closer to its ninth straight conference title by outscoring Washington State 8-2 in the final five minutes to win. Dave Meyers scored 19 points as UCLA took an 11-point halftime lead before 6-11 center Steve Puidokas led the Cougars in a comeback that closed the score to 61-59 with 5:13 left.

Puidokas led all scorers with 24 points while Meyers wound up with 23. UCLA moved its conference record to 9-1 and its season's mark to 20-2.

In other games involving ranked teams, Louisville (6) downed Wichita State 85-76, Marquette (9) annihilated Fordham 101-64 and Nevada Las Vegas (17) beat Loyola (Calif.) 93-81.

Sophomore Wesley Cox hit 15-of-16 shots and riddled Wichita State's zone defense for a career-high 32 points in leading Louisville to its 19th win in 21 games. Cox hit his first 11 shots before Wichita's Mike Edgar blocked one to break his string. He also connected on two straight baskets late in the game to nip a Wichita rally after the Shockers moved to within one point at 77-76.

Lloyd Walton led a Marquette attack that saw all five starters hit in double figures as the Warriors ripped Fordham. At one point, Fordham was able to score only three field goals during an 18-minute period.

Nevada Las Vegas has ended San Francisco's three-year reign as West Coast Athletic Conference basketball champions but the Rebels should let the St. Mary's Gaels share the champagne.

While the Rebels ran their record to 12-1 Thursday night with a 93-81 win over Loyola, St. Mary's stunned the Dons, now 9-3, in an 86-83 upset at Moraga.

Nevada Las Vegas, now 20-4, breezed to a 47-31 halftime lead and never looked back. Glen Gondrezick and Eddie Owens tallied 26 and 22 while Lewis Brown had 13 rebounds and WCAC assist record-setter Ricky Sobers had 13 more assists.

Maurice Harper and Rick Bernard combined for 47 points in the St. Mary's backcourt while Howard Smith had 20 for USF, which hopes its 18-5 season's record is good enough to land the Dons in some postseason tourney.

In more WCAC action Thursday, Art Allen and Ollie Matson Jr. combined for 53 points in Pepperdine's 87-76 win at Nevada Reno. Pete Padgett of the losers had 27 points and 17 rebounds. Rodney Shanks tallied 19 to lead Fresno State to an 80-71 win over Pacific. Santa Clara calls on Seattle tonight.

In the PCAA, Long Beach State, ineligible for post-season play, ran its record to 5-2 with a 67-63 victory at San Jose. Bill Dillon's four free throws in the closing moments broke a 63-all tie. San Diego State, which seems destined to finish first or second in the PCAA and thus wind up in the NCAA tourney, ran its record to 13-9 with a 77-76 non-conference win over UC Santa Barbara. Ray Leary's long jumper was the winning bucket but the Gauchos helped out by missing four free throws in the last 54 seconds.

In more action, the Cal Aggies overwhelmed Stanislaus State 101-57, Seattle Pacific took Pacific Lutheran 82-71 even though Jeff Byrd had 27 for the losers and Dave Baker had 32 to lead UC Irvine past Chapman 86-72.

Sports news in brief

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Garry Maddox and newcomer Von Joshua, both of whom filed and then withdrew from arbitration, Thursday signed contracts with the San Francisco Giants.

The National League team also announced that Bobby Murcer, acquired from the New York Yankees in an off-season trade, and pitcher John D'Acquisto agreed to terms and would bring their contracts to spring training camp in Casa Grande, Ariz., next week.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — John Robinson, an assistant coach under John McKay at University of Southern California for three years, Thursday was named an offensive coach for the Oakland Raiders.

The Trojans went to the Rose Bowl each year Robinson was with the team, beating Ohio State twice and losing to the Buckeyes once.

McKay did not say when a replacement for Robinson would be named.

MALIBU, Calif. (UPI) — Former Los Angeles Dodger pitching star Don Drysdale pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving Thursday and was fined $190 and sentenced to one year probation.

Drysdale, now an announcer for the California Angels, was arrested on Pacific Coast Highway here on Christmas Eve of 1973. He was originally charged with drunken driving.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Marcos Leite, Pepperdine's 6-10 center from Brazil, has been declared ineligible for the remainder of the season for playing on a Brazilian national team without NCAA approval, the school announced Wednesday.

Leite, averaging 20 points and 11 rebounds a game for the waves, was declared ineligible by the NCAA for visiting his homeland in December and playing for a national club team.

Pepperdine basketball coach and athletic director Gary Colson said the school will appeal the decision to the NCAA investigating committee.

DURHAM, N.C. (UPI) — The American Football Coaches Association has announced that Grant Teaff of Baylor and Steve Sloan of Texas Tech will coach rival teams in the 15th annual coaches All-America game.

Bill Murray, executive director of the association, said Thursday the two young coaches will be making their first appearance in the All-Star contest, scheduled for Lubbock, Tex. June 21.

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) — American League batting champion Rod Carew lost his salary arbitration case at a hearing in Chicago Thursday, the Minnesota Twins said.

The second baseman had requested $140,000 next season but the Twins offered only $120,000, so the matter went to arbitration. Last season the four-time batting champ earned $95,000.

An arbiter took Carew's case under 24-hour consideration before announcing a decision Thursday.

Pineda's widow sues track for $25 million

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — The widow of jockey Alvaro Pineda filed a $25 million wrongful death suit Thursday, charging Santa Anita track officials with negligence in connection with Pineda's death in a starting gate accident.

The suit was filed in Pasadena Superior Court by Donna Arman Pineda, 29. Her children, Mathew, 3, and Charlene, 18 months, were also named as plaintiffs.

Named as defendant was the Los Angeles Turf Club, Inc., operator of the Arcadia track.

The suit charges that the starting gate in which Pineda was killed was unsafe. The suit seeks $10 million in general damages and $15 million in punitive damages.

Pineda, 29, died when his mount reared in the starting gate Jan. 18. His skull was crushed against a bar in the back of the starting gate.

Finley batting .600 but Reggie is next

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Charlie Finley, batting a solid .600 in pre-season arbitration with his Oakland A's, takes on star rightfielder Reggie Jackson in a final round of salary talks today.

Jackson, who won a $35,000 raise in arbitration with the irascible A's owner last year, is reportedly demanding a $165,000 salary, up from an estimated $130,000 he received last season. Finley is reportedly offering $140,000.

Finley won three of five arbitration cases in San Francisco this week. He won decisions with catcher Ray Fosse, pitcher Ken Holtzman and third-baseman Sal Bando, saving $62,500 in raises demanded by the players. Finley dropped $39,000 in arbitration to infielder Ted Kubiak and ace reliever Rollie Fingers.

Jackson, the American League's Most Valuable Player in 1973, hit .289 with 29 home runs, 93 RBIs and 25 stolen bases in 1974. He originally planned to hold out for a $200,000 salary but trimmed that figure after discussions with his business partner, Gary Walker of Phoenix.

Seven other Oakland players originally signed up for arbitration but subsequently decided to forego the battle with Finley and signed contracts. They were Joe Rudi, Gene Tenace, Bill North, Paul Lindblad, Vida Blue, Dave Hamilton and John Odom.

The Jackson-Finley hearing will take place at the American Arbitration Association office here. The hearing is being held in Los Angeles at the request of Walker, who does not fly and refused to make the trip to San Francisco.

Laver still wins despite off game

By United Press International

Rod Laver may have been off his game Thursday but he still managed to make the semifinals of the $60,000 Michelob Tournament.

Laver, playing with the World Championship Tennis Blue Group, struggled through the early going before ousting Ismail El Shafei of Egypt, 7-6, 4-6, 6-2, at Rancho La Costa, Calif.

"I never had so many chances to put away easy volleys and overheads and missed them," said the redhaired Australian. "I became quite frustrated out there. I was going bananas talking to myself. I played very erratically today. I'll go out and work on it and hope I can get it together for tomorrow."

In another quarterfinal match, Russia's Alex Metreveli beat Ray Stone of South Africa, 6-3, 6-7, 6-1.

In WCT Red play at Fort Worth, Tex., Australian John Alexander ended Harold Solomon's seven-match winning streak with a 3-6, 6-3, 6-2 victory to advance with South African Cliff Drysdale to the semifinals of the Robintech Classic. Drysdale defeated Jiri Hrebec of Czechoslovakia, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, earlier Thursday night.

Second-seeded Arthur Ashe of Miami beat West German Hans Pohmann, 6-1, 6-2, in 45 minutes to move into the quarterfinals of the $64,000 Barcelona WCT Green Group tourney. In other second round action, Steve Krulevitz of Baltimore upset Italian Adriano Panatta, the sixth seed, 6-4, 6-4, and third-seeded Onny Parun of New Zealand rolled over France's Patric Dominguez, 6-3, 6-4.

At Boca Raton, Fla., top-seeded Jimmy Connors led midway through his second round match with Japan's Jun Kuki before darkness forced the suspension of further play in the $25,000 Boca West International tournament. Connors, the only surviving seed in the tourney, led Kuki, Japan's top-ranked player, 7-5, 3-3.

In an upset, Miami's Mike Belkin ousted third-seeded Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia, 7-5, 1-6, 7-6.

In women's action, Evonne Goolagong, Margaret Court and Martina Navratilova won easily in the quarterfinals of the Virginia Slims of Detroit but Francois Durr of France upset No. 3-seeded Olga Morozova of the Soviet Union.

Miss Durr defeated Miss Morozova in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2.

Australia's Miss Goolagong, the top seed, won, 6-2, 6-1, over Marcie Louie of San Francisco. Second-seeded Mrs. Court, also of Australia, won 6-0, 6-2 over Argentina's Raquel Giscafre and 18-year-old Miss Navratilova of Czechoslovakia, seeded fourth, won 6-1, 6-2 over Betty Stove of the Netherlands.

Great turnabout for Rowland High

By KEVIN CLOE
P-B Staff Writer

The day was Friday, Jan. 17.

Rowland High had just lost a three-point decision to Nogales High in Montview League basketball action. It gave the Raiders their fourth defeat without a victory in league competition.

The future looked dim.

But not anymore.

Tonight, after playing a month of incredible ball, the Raiders can capture the Montview League championship. Sounds unbelievable? It is. But it's true.

Coach Don Livingston's troops have won nine consecutive contests to climb from the depths of the league standings all the way to the top. But the amazing thing about the whole story is that Livingston doesn't think his Raiders are doing anything differently.

"More or less we felt we were a good ball club," he pointed out. "We just needed a little luck more consistently. In those first four games, we lost to Charter Oak by one point, to Northview in double overtime, and to Nogales by three."

Obviously the moral on the club was deteriorating. But the quality of ball didn't suffer.

"The players were down after the first two losses," the Rowland skipper revealed. "I then held a team meeting after the fourth loss. After we won our first game it seemed like the championship."

That one didn't decide any kind of championship, but tonight's will.

The Raiders will be visiting Azusa, the Montview League's last-place club, in an 8 p.m. contest. They defeated the Aztecs in the first round by an 87-56 count.

Livingston, though, isn't about to take the Aztecs lightly . . . not with a league championship on the line. Rowland is currently tied with Workman for the league lead, both boasting 9-4 marks. The worst the Raiders could do tonight is lose and tie for second, which just might put their CIF playoff hopes in jeopardy — even though the CIF will take at least two teams from each league.

"It's all for naught if we lost to Azusa," Livingston was quick to point out. "I don't think we'll win by 21 points again, simply because we're playing on their court and they are a much-improved team."

A few of the guys who have sparked the sudden Raider upsurge have been guard Dave Warner, center Steve Nichols and forward Jim Weedon.

"Our offense has really perked up with Warner's outside shooting," beamed the Rowland mentor. "And Nichols has been a big factor for us all year."

In league competition, Warner is averaging 14.8 points an outing. Nichols, a 6-foot-8 senior, is leading the club with a 15.8 average in the Montview. Weedon, who will occasionally come up with a very big game, is averaging 11.3 per game.

The Raiders' front line consists of forwards Weedon (6-4), Nichols (6-8) and Rusty Owens (6-5). The guards include Warner (5-11) and Ron Goldman (5-9).

In other Montview League action tonight, Charter Oak visits Baldwin Park, Nogales travels to Workman, and Bassett hosts Northview. All games are scheduled to begin at 8 p.m.

In the San Antonio League tonight, Claremont hosts Chino, Damien visits Pomona, and Montclair entertains Upland — all at 8 p.m.

Chino and Damien are currently tied for third place in the SAL standings and both will need victories tonight to keep any chance of getting a playoff bid alive.

In the Hacienda League, league champion Walnut will host Bonita, Ontario will visit Sierra Vista, San Dimas will travel to Alta Loma in hopes of ruining the Braves' playoff chances, and Royal Oak will host Gladstone with the same hopes in mind.

Garey rips Giants for TV audience

Carpenter, who managed to stay out of foul difficulty, played for almost the entire game and his statistics show it. Gary, only a junior, tallied 18 points with his 8-of-19 performance from the field. But the more impressive statistic was his 18 rebounds, eight of which came in the second period.

Evans, the team leader and a definite contender for All-CIF honors, stood out at the 15 and 20-foot spots and fired in seven of 11 field goals to end up with 14 points. Four of his five buckets in the first half touched nothing but the bottom of the net.

After scoring eight points in the first period, McDonald picked up his third foul and rested for the next eight minutes. He only got in three minutes and six points in the third stanza before being tagged with his fourth personal. After another rest he returned to score four more points to boost his total to 18, and left the game with five fouls at the 5:18 mark.

Although Garey ran off to an 11-point lead by the end of the first period, Ganesha wasn't really out of the ball game. But by the end of the second period, the Giants were.

While the Vikings poured in 27 points in the eight-minute span, Ganesha could only salvage 15. The Giants were unable to record their first field goal of the quarter until there was only 3:45 to play.

By that time, Garey had reeled off 17 points to take a commanding 41-17 advantage.

The rest was just for entertainment-sake.

Ganesha forward Donald Barnes, playing very aggressive ball and also taking a punishment under the boards, ended as the Giants high-point man. He scored 19 points (8 for 17) and pulled down 12 rebounds.

Giant center Paul Whitmore, exciting the crowd with his hook shots late in the game, ended up with 11 points and six boards.

Guard Cleve Ball finished with 13 points, while sixth-man George Terry ended up with 12.

Asked if he thought the game would turn into that kind of a rout, Wells commented, "As a matter of fact I thought it would. For the first time this year each of the players had decided what he was going to do. When I walked into the locker room at the beginning of the game to talk to them, they already had the game planned out."

Garey, now 25-1 for the season, will have some more planning to do when it opens the CIF playoffs next Tuesday against a foe yet undetermined. The Vikings are favored to win that too.

Ganesha, meanwhile, will also be entering the 3-A tournament after finishing second in the SAL with a 12-2 league record and a 23-5 seasonal mark.

Two Poly wrestlers go to NCAA finals

Scoring a second-place finish in the California Collegiate Athletic Association, Cal Poly is sending two grapplers to the NCAA National District II Tournament.

Andy MacKnight, a freshman from Chaffey High in Ontario, was the CCAA runnerup in the 142-pound class and will be making the trip back to East Stroudsburg, Pa. for the District II Nationals. MacKnight scored an easy 7-0 win over Joe Pappalardo of Cal State Los Angeles and then dropped a narrow 7-5 nod to Cal State Bakersfield's Dave East in the conference finals.

Poly Heavyweight Mike Hayden also won a trip to Pennsylvania with a runnerup finish in his division. Hayden scored a close 2-1 win over Mark Findlay of CSLA before being outpointed by Bakersfield's Bob Hernon 4-2 in the finals.

The District II National Tourney is slated for March 5-7 in East Stroudsburg. The top two CCAA finalists in each weight class qualified for the Nationals. Bakersfield copped the CCAA team title with 176 points, followed by Cal Poly with 104. Cal State Northridge finished third with 88 points, while CSLA was fourth in team standings with 62 points. Bakersfield wrestlers captured first-place finished in all 10 weight classes.

Prep trackmen open season in meets around the valley

Prep track teams opened the season Thursday afternoon around the valley.

In a triangular meet at Azusa, Claremont High scored 77 points to outdistance Azusa (46) and Rosemead (26), while San Dimas routed Damien, 97-16 and Chino defeated Temple City, 64-53.

Mark Ramstead paced Claremont with three victories in the 220 (25.2), 880 (2:03.6) and helped the mile relay team to a 3:39.2 winning time.

Gary Audrey came in with two wins for the Wolfpack, running a 4:37.4 mile and a 9:54.6 two-mile.

Colin Fenderson turned in a triple for San Dimas. The senior won the 220 in 23.8, the high jump with a leap of 6-feet even and the long jump, 19-feet, 5 inches.

Tony Atkinson won the pole vault in a fine early season effort of 13-feet.

Chino used only 10 varsity athletes to top Temple City.

Steve Harmon captured victories in the pole vault (11-0), and the 120 hurdles (16.2) 330 low hurdles (42.0).

Steve Roberts won the mile (4:50.4) and the two-mile (10:44.0).

Baseball roundup

Mounties win pair in tourney opener

Mt. San Antonio College swept by its first two opponents Thursday in the opening rounds of the John Arrambide Invitational Baseball Tournament at MSAC.

Coach Art Mazmanian's Mounties routed Glendale, 12-2 and College of the Canyons, 10-2 behind the pitching of Larry Pekarcik and Bobby Chaulk. The Mounties face the winner of today's games in Saturday's championship game at 2 p.m.

Riverside played East L.A. and Rio Hondo faced Cypress in action this morning. Winners were to play at 2 p.m. on the varsity diamond and losers were to play 2 p.m. on the junior varsity field.

In other junior college baseball Thursday, Chaffey tuned up for its Mission Conference opener with Riverside Tuesday by blanking Pasadena City College, 5-0, behind the six-hit pitching of Steve Gibson. It was Gibson's second victory in a row.

MSAC's Pekarcik picked up his first win in two outings by striking out 11. He gave up five hits, but four came in Glendale's two-run first inning.

The Mounties banged out 14 hits in the first game, including doubles by Jerry Hatley, who had a pair, Mike Parkinson and Tracy Cowger. Dan Gans and Rick Yaklin tripled.

In the win over C of C, Bobby Chaulk gained his second win in three starts, fanning 13 while giving up only three walks and three hits.

Dennis Lee, Javier Fierro and Parkinson hit doubles in the contest and Fierro hit a solo homer in the fifth inning.

The victories were MSAC's fifth and sixth in a row.

Chaffey ran its record to 8-1-1 for the season with the win over Pasadena. Brian Francisco got half of Chaffey's six hits with two doubles and a single.

Azusa wins with rally

Azusa Pacific came from behind with eight runs in three innings Thursday to defeat Pacific Christian, 10-4, at APC.

Trailing 4-2, the Cougars (3-1) scored twice in the sixth on three singles and Paul Moskau's double to tie the score. Pacific Christian went to pieces in the seventh, giving up three runs on two walks, two errors and two singles.

Mark Barrier smashed a three-run homer in the eighth to ice the game. Moskau belted a two-run home run in the fourth inning for APC's first pair of runs. He finished the day with three hits including the homer and double and three runs batted in.

APC will host Whittier Saturday in a doubleheader.

La Verne meet is next month

The La Verne Parks and Recreation Annual Boys and Girls Track Meet is scheduled for Saturday, March 22, rather than this Saturday as previously announced.

Further announcements will be made about participation.

Prep wrestlers enter sectionals

A total of 74 valley athletes from the San Antonio and Hacienda leagues will compete in the CIF wrestling sectionals Saturday at Fontana and Edgewood highs.

Thirty-nine of the competitors will be representing the SAL, with another 35 coming from the Hacienda League.

Montclair High, the SAL champion, will have more participants than any other club from the two leagues.

The Cavaliers, who claimed five league champions in the SAL finals last Saturday, will send 10 grapplers into the competition.

Alta Loma also will be sending 10 wrestlers, two of whom were crowned champions at the Hacienda League finals.

The SAL competitors will be wrestling in the sectionals at Fontana, while the Hacienda hopefuls will be at the Edgewood site. Competition is scheduled to get underway at 10:30 a.m.

The top five wrestlers in each weight division will ther advance to the CIF finals,to be held at Fountain Valley High on Saturday, March 1.

Some of the top contenders from the SAL to reach the finals include Mike and Terry Farley (98 and 106) from Montclair, Bill Glasheen (123) of Upland, Bruce Barmakian (141) of Upland, John Overstreet (148) from Montclair, Don Markley (194) of Montclair and Jeff Whitton of Claremont at heavyweight.

They were all easy winners in the SAL finals.

From the Hacienda League, the wrestlers to watch will be And Hernandez of Ontario at 98, Roger DeSantiago of Ontario at 115, Phillipe Yanez of Ontario at 130, Davison of San Dimas at 136, Hargrave of Alta Loma at 148, Jay Corbin of Royal Oak at 168, Robin Miller of Ontario at 178, and heavyweight Joe Myers of Royal Oak.

Leos get revenge by defeating CSD

By DON BRADLEY
P-B Staff Writer

The Leos aren't dead yet!

They proved it Thursday night by thoroughly whipping Cal St. Dominguez, 89-76 in the Supertent.

Consider these points:

—Hit by an eligibility ruling, La Verne cannot participate in post-season action even if if should win the conference title.

—The Thursday night game against CSD was a non conference affair. True, revenge might have been a motive since CSD had walloped the Leopards earlier, 94-71. But the team could have given up and played out the string in self pity.

—Bill Rockwood did not play. The 6-4 forward suffered a badly bruised knee in a collision with another player at Cal Lutheran Saturday night.

—Guard Dave Castaneda had the flu and would not have played either except that Jon Russ fouled out with 8:12 still left in the game.

—Center Dan Carroll sustained a badly twisted ankle and hobbled from the game with nearly six minutes left.

Still the Leos won. Handily.

In the last two years, one characteristic stands out above all others in La Verne basketball.

The Leos are the toughest when all odds are against them and everything seems to be going the wrong way.

The city, the school, the team and its fans can be proud of the fighting Leopards.

Tim Gillette played his greatest game yet. The 6-5 forward scored 32 points and grabbed 18 rebounds.

Mark Gibson, starting in place of the ailing Castaneda, contributed 14 points. Both he and Russ (who was forced into the playmaker's role) responded with good efforts.

Tom Jones came off the bench to score 17 points, 13 of them in the second half when he hit three of six field goals attempts and five of six free throws.

Carroll, the 6-5 center, scored seven points and grabbed nine rebounds in addition to playing his usual good floor game.

Don Carter, starting in place of Rockwood, came through with seven points, all in the second half.

"Two guys (Gibson and Jones) who don't play a lot came through when we needed them just like they've done all year," said coach Art Bias. Maybe that proves we do have a bench. Carroll played his usual steady game before he was hurt. Gillette played two complete halves and he's some player when he does that."

La Verne resumes conference play Saturday night hosting Pomona-Pitzer.

McConnell SID at Poly

Jim McConnell has been chosen as the new Sports Information Director at Cal Poly Pomona, it has been announced by Bronco Athletic Director Don Warhurst. McConnell takes over the office from the departing John Watkins.

"We are very pleased to obtain Jim's services for this position," commented Assistant Athletic Director Herb Adams. "His background in journalism and business should make him the right man to publicize and promote our expanding sports program."

McConnell is a student at the university and a life-long resident of Pomona. A graduate of Pomona High and Mt. San Antonio College, he brings strong local ties to the Sports Information Director's office. Before his appointment, McConnell worked for the Progress-Bulletin as a sports writer.

"We were fortunate in having a number of highly qualified applicants for this position," Adams continued. "However, we felt that Jim's interest in Bronco sports and his understanding of the local media will enable him to most successfully execute the duties of the SID's job."

More trout for Southland anglers

A total of 2,116,000 catchable-size trout are scheduled to be stocked in Southern California fishing waters this year by the Department of Fish and Game.

This total, up 250,000 from last year, will be divided among 68 lakes, streams, and reservoirs in the seven Southland counties. The additional quarter of a million trout will be used to improve fishing in Castaic, Pyramid, Silverwood and Perris Lakes--all part of the State Water Project.

Athough rainfall for the 1974-75 season is below normal in Southern California, water supplies should be sufficient to provide good fishing in most areas through the spring and into summer months, according to the department.

However, water temperatures are critical for trout survival and stocking will be discontinued in waters where conditions are not suitable. Allotments for these waters will be shifted to other nearby areas where conditions are suitable for trout survival, the department explains.

Increase in fuel costs have brought about changes in schedules of hatchery tanker trucks used to stock trout. Fewer trips are being made to most waters and a few remote and little-used waters have been dropped from the schedule. However, trucks are carrying bigger loads of fish so the total number of fish stocked in most areas will remain about the same.

In addition, the department is increasing the number of trout stocked in waters near population centers to enable people to fish without having to travel longer distances.

Most of the fish stocked this year in Southern California will come from the department's Fillmore Hatchery in Ventura County; however, 300,000 will be stocked from the DFG Fish Springs Hatchery in Inyo County.

Mojave River Hatchery near Victorville in San Bernardino County was closed last year for major modernization and will not be producing trout for stocking until early in 1976.

The majority of waters stocked by the department are within the four national forests in Southern California. Maps of these areas information about roads and camping areas can be obtained from Forest Service offices and district ranger stations.

Maps of other areas showing planted waters are not published by the DFG. However, these waters are shown on maps available from service stations, automobile clubs and other sources.

A large number of lakes stocked by the department are owned or administered by water districts or other public agencies. Many of these agencies charge nominal fees to cover the cost of providing restrooms, parking areas and similar facilities. Some of these agencies purchase additional trout from private hatcheries to supplement the state allotments.

Privately owned waters are not stocked by the state unless they are open to the public without special charges for angling.

While most of the trout caught in Southern California are hatchery-reared fish, stocked in waters easily accessible to the public, some anglers prefer the more wiley, although usually smaller, wild trout. These native fish can be found in the more remote sections of some mountain streams. Headwater of the Sisquoc River in Santa Barbara County, the West Fork of the San Gabriel River and Bear Creek in the canyon area below Big Bear Lake in San Bernardino County are likely areas for larger wild trout, the Department advises anglers willing to hike a few miles for their fish.

Trout fishing is a year-round sport in Southern California, but all anglers 16 or older must have a valid fishing license and the inland waters and trout stamps. The license costs $4, the inland waters stampcosts $2 and the trout stamp costs $3. Fishing licenses run from Jan. 1 through Dec. 31.

Knowledge of the fishing regulations is expected of all anglers. The department suggests every angler carry a copy of the regulations booklet with him and check the rules for the area in which he plans to fish. Regulations and booklets can be obtained without charge from all DFG offices and most sporting goods stores and bait shops.

In most Southern California waters the trout limit is five throughout the year. However, on the Colorado River in Imperial County and in eastern San Bernardino and Riverside counties along the Colorado River the daily limit is 10 trout.

Fishing hours are from one hour before sunrise to one hour after sunset, except for the Colorado River; Imperial County and eastern San Bernardino and Riverside counties; Evans lake and Hemet Lake from the shore only in Riverside County; Hansen Lake, Legg Lake, Puddingstone Lake and Apollo Lake in Los Angeles County; Vandenberg Air Force Base in Santa Barbara County and the Coachella Valley in Riverside County.

Below is a county-by-county list of waters in Southern California that the Department plans to stock with catchable-size trout this year, along with directions for getting there. Scheduled planting periods are shown in partentheses, although these may be changed if water conditions are not suitable.

Official urges food stepup in Mexico to avoid hunger

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Mexico will face a hunger problem within 20 years if adequate measures are not taken immediately to step up food production, Agriculture Minister Oscar Brauer Herrera said recently.

Mexico's population growth of 3.4 per cent a year obliges it to double food production within 20 years, he said.

"If it does not, many people will starve to death," Brauer Herrera told newsmen after meeting President Luis Echeverria.

He said Echeverria had authorized wider areas of land to be planted with basic crops. Greater planning was being put into effect to prevent waste, and obsolete equipment was being replaced.

He said Mexico should accept last week's U.S. offer to exchange crude oil for grain. U.S. Agriculture Undersecretary Robert Long made the offer on a visit to Mexico.

Mexico, self-sufficient in grain for 16 years following its "Green Revolution," started importing again in 1972.

Egypt receives long-awaited jets from Russ

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Egypt has received its first long-delayed shipment of "about six" advanced MiG23 jet fighters from the Soviet Union, U.S. officials said recently.

The jet fighters arrived within the last few weeks along with some ammunition and a small number of other weapons, the officials said.

The aircraft deliveries appeared to be completion of orders filed by Cairo before the October 1973 Yom Kippur war, they said, and it remained unclear if the Soviet Union has actually decided to resume full arms deliveries.

Soviet military aid to Egypt dried up last spring and since then only a trickle of spare parts and minor arms have arrived, intelligence sources said.

The sources said they did not know if the some half dozen MiGs that have now arrived were all that remained of the pre-October 1973 arms

The spirit of Friendship Service. It's catching.

Catch it big with United's all-747 fleet to Hawaii.

United's Big Birds to Hawaii. With lots of room. And lots of friendship.

The minute you step on board, you step into the spirit of the Islands. You'll find Hawaiian stewards. Special Island foods. And exotic cocktails. Plus movies and 8 channels of audio entertainment (nominal charges for headsets and cocktails in Coach). You start your vacation right in the sky.

Come catch the spirit of Friendship Service to Hawaii on United's all-747 fleet. For reservations, call your Travel Agent. Or call United at 983-1721.

And while you're in the Islands, don't forget our Partners in Travel, Western International Hotels. In Honolulu, it's the Ilikai.

DENNISSE WAK

PUERTO RICO
THE WORLD'S SMALLEST BREED OF DOG IS THE CHIHUAHUA. A FULLY GROWN CHIHUAHUA CAN EASILY SIT IN THE PALM OF A MAN'S HAND.
DICK KOHLER

JOHNNY WONDER'S PUZZLE BOOK: 60 pages of fun and games. Order your book now. Send $1.25 to Puzzle Book, (% this newspaper), P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019

The smallest breed of dog is the chihuahua (pronounced chee WAH wah), whose native home is in Mexico.

A chihuahua may stand only 5 inches high and weigh from one to four pounds when fully grown. An adult chihuahua can easily sit in the palm of a man's hand.

Chihuahuas belong to the class of dogs called "toy dogs." All toy dogs are small in size, rarely growing to be more than 10 inches high or more than eight pounds in weight.

Many toy dogs, such as the toy poodle and English toy spaniel, are merely smaller editions of larger dogs. Others, as the chihuahua, have been individual breeds as far back as we can trace them.

Although they are small, toy dogs possess more courage than their tiny size would indicate.

Toy dogs are popular apartment pets because they require little space or exercise. They often have loud barks that warn their owners of danger.

A radio, camera, globe or other fine prize will be awarded to the first youngster sending in a question used here. Send your question and your age to Johnny Wonder, (c/o this newspaper), Box 1335 (DA), Santa Cruz, CA 95061.

Arbor Day: March 7 celebration a national tradition

EVERGREEN ELM

Arbor Day is taking on greater significance with each passing year. It was April 10, 1872, when the first Tree Planting Day was celebrated in Nebraska. J. Sterling Morton, a newspaper man, came up with the idea of Arbor Day as a method of replacing trees which had vanished from the plains.

Settlers had cleared Nebraska lands for farming, destroying trees as they went. Other trees were cut for building homes or for firewood. Nebraskans responded to the replacement project with enthusiasm, and Arbor Day has since spread to other parts of the nation.

In California, March 7 is designated as Arbor Day, commemorating the birthdate of Luther Burbank, the renowned naturalist. Tree Planting Day continues to grow in status here — as it does throughout the country.

Long ago, the value of trees was recognized for holding top soil against the ravages of water, and erosion, and the subsequent prevention of property damage.

The value of trees has reached into areas beyond timber and resource conservation. Highway engineers use trees as sound insulation for reducing freeway and street noise. At the same time, the trees trap and filter from the air dirt, dust and smoke particles.

These same benefits are to be enjoyed in the home garden, too, where the trees improve the environment and beautify the surroundings. Trees reduce temperatures around a home, provide welcome shade, and highlight the landscape. Not to be overlooked is the fact trees provide vital oxygen for human consumption — wherever they are planted.

For the home gardener, 1975 is a good time to participate in a meaningful experience such as Arbor Day. There are trees to fit any garden or planting situation. Nurseries have the varieties best for local conditions; your nurseryman can recommend specific choices for any planting site. His knowledge will assure that you plant the right tree in the right place — so that the expected results will be achieved. And, that your tree will flourish, to beautify the home and neighborhood, and to contribute towards a quality environment to benefit present and future generations.

Home & Garden

Cool for less

If a house is to be air conditioned, adding insulation first usually will allow smaller air-conditioning equipment to be used. The dollar savings from smaller equipment may be more than the cost of the insulation, says the NAHB Research Foundation, a subsidiary of the National Association of Home Builders.

Sprouts & cuttings

Growers from Bakersfield to San Diego are expected to enter the 28th annual Pomona Valley Camellia Show opening Saturday.

Entries will be taken at Pomona First Federal Savings and Loan Assn., 399 N. Garey Ave., between 8:30 and 11 a.m. Judging will be from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Show hours Saturday are from 2:30 to 6 p.m. and from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Sunday. There is no charge to the public.

Indoor gardening

Plants cramped? Switch to bigger pots

Repotting to bigger pots should be done only when the plant shows signs of being cramped. Putting plants in pots that are too big encourages root growth instead of leaf growth.

Determining cramped conditions isn't always easy. Look for yellowing lower leaves (if you haven't been overwatering), new leaves that come in smaller than average size or droopy leaves between waterings.

If you are still uncertain about repotting, when the plant is slightly wet, gently hold the stem, tap the pot lightly around the edges and pull it out for examination. If the roots are thickly packed on the outside and show the shape of the pot, it is time to repot.

The best time of year to transplant is spring when new growth is beginning, rather than winter when plants become dormant.

Use a container that is about two inches wider and two inches deeper than the original. Try not to disturb the roots too much. Just spread some of the outer ones by inserting a fork in the root ball and wiggling gently. Spreading the roots in this manner will encourage proper development in a new pot.

Dance group to perform at Inner City

The George Faison Universal Dance Experience, a black modern dance company, will perform for the first time in Los Angeles tonight through Sunday at Inner City Cultural Center.

Curtain time is 8 o'clock.

Faison's career began as a student choreographer at Dunbar High School in Washington, D.C. He continued his involvement in theater and dance at Howard University and later went to New York to study with professional dancers and as a Harkness House scholarship student.

Faison made his professional debut in 1968 as Lauren Bacall's television dance partner and joined the Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater shortly afterwards. He was the lead dancer for Ailey's group for three years, and formed his own dance company in 1971.

He has designed costumes for the Alley ensemble and choreographed the hit musical "Dont Bother Me I Cant Cope." He has also choreographed presentations by the Afro-American Total Theater.

Pomona glee clubs to give concerts

The Pomona College glee clubs will present their home concert in Bridges Hall, Pomona College, at 8:15 p.m. Saturday and at 3 p.m. Sunday. William F. Russell, chairman of the music department, will conduct.

Seats are reserved. Tickets, $2, general admission, $1 for students, are available at Thatcher Music Building office, Pomona College.

The varied program includes the "Lamento d'Arianna," a cycle of madrigals by Claudio Monteverdi, composed on the text of the famous lament from the lost opera "Arianna." The most popular of Monteverdi's works, "Lasciatemi morire," is the opening madrigal of the cycle.

The clubs also will sing three of the highly-chromatic madrigals of Gesualdo: "Io tacero," "Invan dunque" and "Moro lasso," and the "Trois Chansons" by Maurice Ravel, composed to his own lyrics.

The women's glee club will perform "Three Songs for Women's Voices," composed in 1956 by Karl Kohn, Pomona College composer-in-residence, on poems by Carew, Lyly, and Beaumont.

The men's glee club will sing "Three Welsh Folksongs," arranged by A.T. Davison, including the rousing "Men of Harlech."

A feature of the concert will be a performance of nostalgic ditties for light entertainment by the Blue and White Quartet.

Film classic scheduled

"Grapes of Wrath" will be shown at Citrus College Auditorium at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. Tuesday, the first featured film of the college's Library Series. Citrus College Community Services co-sponsors the programs.

The motion picture depicts the struggle of evicted dust bowl victims to produce a leader. Starring Henry Fonda, as Tom Joad, the film reveals the daily experience of dust, hunger, brutality and exploitation suffered by these people who moved westward during the 1930s.

Admission is free.

Swing band at The Timbers

Johnny Catron and his 15-piece orchestra will play for listening and dancing at The Timbers, 1920 E. Alosta Blvd., Glendora, Saturday night.

Catron's show, "25 Years of Swing," was heard on radio station KFI, Los Angeles, for more than two years. For the past six years the band has been appearing at major night spots throughout the Southland, including the Casino on Catalina Island. It plays at the Los Angeles County Fair each year.

The Catron "25 Years of Swing" album has been very popular, and a new album, "Road Band '75," will be released soon.

Do-it-yourself

NEW YORK (UPI) — The "do-it-yourself" contingent is a fairly sizable group, to judge from a survey of U.S. daily and Sunday newspapers. The survey, conducted by the Newspaper Advertising Bureau, shows that more than three of every four daily newspapers and eight of every 10 Sunday papers carry "do-it-yourself" material.

Russian given 2 years for duel with student

MOSCOW (UPI) — When actor Vitaly Zikora discovered that the student he took into his house was having an affair with his wife, the two fought a duel with hunting rifles, Sovietskaya Russia said recently.

Zikora wounded the student, Grigory Gilbouch, and a court in Irkutsk, Siberia, sentenced him to two years in prison. Dueling was banned in Russia before the Bolshevik revolution.

Traditional duel weapons are sabers, but the newspaper said Zikora rejected them because he did not want an unfair advantage. He had often handled swords on stage while Gilbouch, a journalism student, had no experience with them.

According to the newspaper, Gilbouch and Zikora found a secluded wood, measured out 32 paces and drew lots for first shot. Zikora won and offered to draw again but Gilbouch declined, not thinking he would fire.

When Gilbouch fell to the ground wounded, Zikora helped him to an ambulance and reported the incident to the police.

The student recovered, the newspaper said, adding that Zikora "chose the wrong way to defend his honor."

San Diego picks Oregonian as its new city manager

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Hugh McKinley, 55, city manager of Eugene, Ore., for the past 14 years, was chosen as city manager for San Diego Monday.

"He is regarded as the dean of city managers in Oregon, in fact, respected throughout the United States as an able administrator," Mayor Pete Wilson said at the end of an all day City Council executive session.

McKinley will assume his duties here April 1 at a salary of $42,500, Wilson said.

He was chosen to succeed City Manager Kimball Moore, who retired last fall. The A. D. Little Co., a consulting firm, was hired to conduct a nationwide search for Moore's successor and to screen original applicants.

The firm evaluated McKinley as an excellent administrator who "can be very tough administratively and has the courage to take action when necessary."

Reached at his home in Eugene, McKinley said the city has the same growth-related problems of land use, expansion of public facilities and transportation as San Diego.

"Our experience here has been to attempt to control and manage growth but not to stifle it," he said.

New Mexico offers to swap a mountain for Lake Erie

SANTA FE, N.M. (UPI) — The state senate decided New Mexico "really has more mountains than it needs," and offered to swap a mountain to the state of Ohio —possibly in exchange for Lake Erie.

There's a catch to the offer.

If Ohio decides to take New Mexico up on the offer to donate 8,720-foot high Sierra Grande Peak in northeastern New Mexico, the midwestern state will have to "bear all cost of removal and transportation of the mountain."

The offer was made in a New Mexico Senate memorial which noted that two members of the Ohio General Assembly had recently expressed an interest in having a mountain in their flatland state.

The memorial suggests the mountain be relocated near Columbus, the capital of Ohio, "for all Ohioans to gaze at whenever they feel a need for a mountain."

The sponsors of the memorial say that if Ohio feels "generously moved by New Mexico's magnanimous gift, New Mexico might consider Lake Erie in exchange."

County sues over aid to illegal aliens

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Los Angeles County filed suit Tuesday against the federal government, charging that Immigration and Naturalization Service inaction has cost the county $8.1 million wrongfully paid to illegal aliens for health benefits.

The suit filed in federal court here alleges that the INS has done a poor job of determining whether persons on a list supplied by the county are legal or illegal aliens.

Illegal aliens are not entitled to welfare aid.

As a result of INS inaction, illegal aliens have wrongfully received at least $8.1 million in county assistance, the suit said.

Assemblyman fined $190 on driving charge

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Assemblyman John Foran, D-San Francisco, was fined $190 Wednesday after pleading guilty to a reduced charge of reckless driving.

Deputy District Attorney Mike White said Foran pleaded guilty in Sacramento Municipal Court to reckless driving rather than drunken driving because a test indicated his alcohol level was .1 per cent. The legal limit is .10 per cent.

Three other lawmakers this year have been charged with drunken driving.

Foran, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, was arrested Nov. 22 in downtown Sacramento.

He was first elected in 1972. He is a law partner of and longtime friend of Assembly Speaker Leo T. McCarthy and served as deputy state attorney general from 1959-62.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE INVITING BIDS FOR CASH CONTRACT NO. 4430 NASA 25-Foot Clear Route

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the Road Commissioner of the County of Los Angeles, in Room 180, 1540 Alcazar Street, Los Angeles, California 90033, until 9:30 a.m. on March 11, 1975; and then will be publicly opened and read in Room 193 at the above address for the replacement of existing traffic signal shafts with swing-away type shafts and remount all existing equipment on the new shafts at various intersections, estimated to cost less than $9,000.00, all in accordance with the provisions of the Plans, Specifications, Notices and Instructions to Bidders therefor which are on file and open for inspection at the offices of the Board of Supervisors and the County Road Department.

The Engineer may, from time to time and without Board approval, issue addenda to the contract documents during the period of advertising for bids for the following purposes: (a) revising Prevailing Wage Scales, (b) clarifying or correcting special provisions, plans or bid proposal; provided, however, that any such addenda shall not change the original scope and intent of the project.

Purchasers of contract documents shall be notified of and furnished with copies of such addenda, either by certified mail or personal delivery, during the period of advertising.

Proposal must be submitted on forms prepared and furnished for the purpose, which may be obtained at the Information Desk in the lobby of the Los Angeles County Road Department Administration Building, 1540 Alcazar Street, Los Angeles, California 90033 at which office bidders may also purchase copies of the Plans and Specifications for the contemplated work for the price of $7.14 plus Sales Tax per set, not refundable. A mail address and a phone number must be left at the aforementioned office which the prospective bidder agrees is sufficient to reach him.

Each submitted proposal must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check, or a surety bond, payable to the County of Los Angeles in an amount equivalent to at least ten (10) percent of the total aggregate bid price of such proposal, as a guaranty that the bidder, if his proposal be accepted, will enter into and execute the awarded contract, and furnish the required bonds in connection therewith, in accordance with the terms of the aforementioned Specifications and Instructions to Bidders. In the event that a surety bond is submitted in lieu of a check, it shall be subject to the condition that the surety thereon be approved by the County Auditor and County Counsel.

The Board of Supervisors reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and to waive technical errors and discrepancies, if to do so seems to best serve the interests of the County.

Pursuant to the provisions of Sections 1770 to 1777, inclusive, of the Labor Code of the State of California, the Board of Supervisors has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages for each craft or type of workman needed to execute the proposed contract, and it will be required that not less than said rates be paid to all such workmen employed or engaged on the work. Complete wage rate schedules are on file at the offices of the Board of Supervisors and the County Road Department.

The rate of compensation for any classification not listed in the schedule, but which may be required to execute the proposed contract, shall be commensurate and in accord with the rates specified for similar or comparable classifications or for those performing similar or comparable duties.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS: Bidders must satisfy themselves by personal examination of location of the proposed work and by such other means as they may prefer as to the actual conditions and requirements of the work, and shall not at any time after submission of the bid dispute, complain, or assert that there was any misunderstanding in regard to the nature or amount of work to be done.

The contractor to whom this contract is awarded will be required, before execution of the contract by the County Board of Supervisors, to file with the County Board of Supervisors surety bonds as follows:

A "Faithful Performance Bond" amounting to 100% of the total contract price as required for all contracts.

A "Payment Bond" (labor and material) amounting to 50% of the total contract price is required for all contracts which have a total contract price in excess of $10,000.

By order of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Los Angeles, State of California.

Dated February 11, 1975.

AUCTION OF FINE OIL PAINTINGS
Sunday Afternoon: February 23rd - 1:00 P.M. at 4953 State St. - Ontario, Calif.
(between Central & Monte Vista)
Adults Only No Children Please

We at West Coast are very proud to have been commissioned to sell at auction an outstanding lot of over 300 fine oil paintings.

These beautiful pieces of art were all painted by well known American, European and Oriental artists such as G. Whitman, Cantrell, P. Stirrat, Edwards and Ferver (well known for florals), Stevens (well known for seascapes), Palbarn (well known for portraits) Morgan, Marvin, Granger, and many more of the same caliber.

These oils are all originals and only the best quality paints, canvas, and other materials are used.

There are paintings of all sizes, large and small, and each one is in a magnificent frame of various styles including many hand-carved oak and walnut.

ADVANTAGES OF BUYING '74 FIATS FROM FRANK WHITE IMPORTS — LOWER PRICES — ALL MODELS IN STOCK. NO CATALISTIC MUFFLERS. COME IN & LET OUR COURTEOUS SALESMEN TELL YOU ALL THE EXTRA ADVANTAGES.

Plus Savings

Only the designing ingenuity and engineering excellence of FIAT could have produced this incredible subcompact: FIAT 128. The economy car that offers all the advantages of smallness with none of the disadvantages. It's shorter in length than VW — but it's bigger inside. That's the result of mounting the front-wheel drive engine transversely so that it occupies just 20% of the total interior — leaving fully 80% for passenger room and a 13 cu. ft. trunk. The 4 door model has the same interior and exterior dimensions.

And space isn't the only advantage.

Discover why the FIAT 128 has won more international Car-Of-The-Year awards in Europe than any other car in history.

STANDARD EQUIPMENT INCLUDES:

● 4-speed Transmission ● Front Disc Brakes ● Dual brake System ● Radial Ply Tires ● Reclining Bucket Seats ● Wheel Independent Suspension ● Unitized Body Construction ● Flow-Through Ventilation.
